WILSON RELATIVE NAMED IN SHIPPING BOARD CASE

Witness is Hazy on Facts of Loan; Didn't Know if Bolling Got the Money; Latter Makes Denial.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Allegation tending to implicate men intimately connected with the Shipping Board in alleged securing contracts for the Wallace Downey Ship Company of New York were made today by Tucker K. Wilson before the Senate investigating committee.

Wilson, who is alleged to have been a confidential agent of the Shipping Board, was asked to produce a list of all persons who had been in contact with him during the past year. He refused to do so, claiming that he was not a confidential agent of the Shipping Board.

Wilson's denial was made in the face of testimony given by other witnesses who claimed to have seen him in contact with members of the Shipping Board. Wilson's denial was also made in the face of a letterhead memorandum from the Shipping Board which stated that Wilson was a confidential agent of the Shipping Board.

CHAOS KING IN RUSSIA. Italian Deputies Get This View.

Delegation Returns to Rome from Tour of Bolsheviki Ruled Country.

Report of Socialists Terms Government as One Huge Bureaucratic Staff.

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
ROME, Nov. 20.—The Italian Socialist Deputies on their return from Russia refused to grant interviews concerning their impressions of their trip, and at their congress at Trieste barred newspaper reporters.

Despite all these precautions a Bologna newspaper succeeded in getting a copy of the report written by Deputy D'Aragnone, Giuseppe Bianchi and the organizer, Colombino. These three and several members of the co-operative system were delegated to write a clear report on the economic side of Russian Communism, especially in regard to syndicate organization by the Confederation of Labor.

The political side of the question was left to Grandi, Lombardi and Vercelli. The following is the report written by D'Aragnone, Bianchi and Colombino:

WELCOME WARM.
The Italian mission was warmly welcomed officially. The Bolsheviki, especially in Petrograd, helped them in every way, journeying about the country and at their congress at Trieste barred newspaper reporters.

PICKS MELONS IN SNOWSTORM; BANK IS HOPING FOR INTEREST ON BABY CHICKS IT GAVE AWAY.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NOBLESVILLE (Ind.) Nov. 20.—While it was snowing, E. M. Carpenter, farmer, went into a field, picked a dozen watermelons which had been left out among the vines and distributed them among his friends.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—If city officials cared to, they could prevent the holding of a dance in any public place in Indianapolis. Attorneys, during the argument of a lawsuit, discovered that there was the strictest kind of a blue law here which had never been enforced.

HICKMAN (Ky.) Nov. 20.—The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, which last year gave pure-bred baby chicks away, with the provision that four of every twenty pullets be given back to the bank, is making a call for returns. The bank scattered the chicks throughout the country in the hope of getting better poultry. They expected their pay in pullets. But the pay has been coming in slowly.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 20.—Local citizens did not know their danger election night when the whole town celebrated. A wagonload of nitroglycerine consigned to a coal mine was standing along one of the streets and a chance shot would have played havoc.

BOWLING GREEN (Ky.) Nov. 20.—The local marriage license clerk has one page in his book which is damaged. He is waiting for a man to return with the name of his prospective bride. When the clerk started to write out the license the man could remember only that the bride-to-be was named Nancy. He said he'd be back when the clerk told him that was not enough of a name. He has thus far failed to appear.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—There was a sudden drop in coal here, but not in price. Hundreds of bushels went to the bottom of the Ohio when three barges coming down the river had a smash-up.

ARREST DRIVER OF FATAL TRUCK; ACTION URGED.

Death of Van de Water Stirs Officials to Swift Steps to Protect Highway from Careless Drivers.

The tragic death of Charles P. Van de Water, Congressman-elect from the Ninth District, by the collision of his auto with an unlighted truck and trailer left on the public highway stirred the county officials to swift steps yesterday to make an example of the case and to protect the highways in future as a means of preventing further tragedies of the sort.

Carlyle Hughes, truck driver for the Italian Vineyard Company, who left the vehicles on the road, was arrested and charged with manslaughter, a felony punishable by from one to fourteen years in State's prison. (The District Attorney's office announced that the case will be vigorously prosecuted, especially in view of the fact that many other accidents have resulted from the failure of drivers leaving vehicles standing to place lights on front and rear.)

At an early meeting of the Board of Supervisors a new county ordinance will be framed, it was stated yesterday, to supplement the provisions of the State Motor Vehicle Act regarding unlighted vehicles left on the road and providing for severe penalties as possible.

The death in automobile accidents of the son and daughter of Judge Elliott and of Mr. Van de Water was the subject of an appeal by Judge Elliott to the Board of Supervisors.

"Prompt concerted action should be taken to bring to an end this slaughter on our highways," said Judge Elliott. "I have seen many men and women killed and mangled on the streets without lights. Almost any evening one can see one or more road hogs dashing along our highways in many cases without lights or violating the law by failing to use dimmers. Citizens' committees can be appointed and a plan started which will go far toward bringing to an end these killings of citizens."

Failure to leave proper lights on vehicles standing by the roadside, which are defined as being from one property line to another, is declared by the State Motor Vehicle Act to be a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or both.

Investigation was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fox and a manslaughter complaint issued against him by Judge Elliott. Hecker, who stated that the evidence indicated Hughes was culpable because of his failure to leave proper lights on his car. He was arrested before Judge Elliott's hearing on the case. He was provided by Records Clerk, District Attorney's office, that he was arrested before Judge Elliott's hearing on the case. ASKED ABOUT CONSPIRACY.

Congressman Kelley asked the witness:

"Was this a sort of conspiracy between you and Mr. Cranor to use Mr. Bolling in this transaction, and you to keep the money, all of it?"

"No, it was not intended to do that," the witness replied.

"Did Mr. Bolling say he would see the parties who would let the contract?"

"No, sir."

Sands also said Bolling did not say he would use his influence and when asked why he was to give him part of the money if he was not going to perform any service, Sands replied:

"Well, he and Mr. Slater worked together."

"Now here are two men in connection with the Shipping Board," Mr. Kelley said. "They are not, however, connected with the letting of contracts. You agreed to pay them $10,000 apiece. Now I ask you what were they to do?"

"Fifteen thousand dollars was to go to Mr. Cranor," Sands said.

"Now, what was your understanding with Mr. Bolling as to what he was to do?" Mr. Kelley asked.

"Mr. Bolling was not to do anything further than to help with Mr. Slater," Sands replied.

"Why did you seek to blacken Mr. Bolling's reputation by consenting to this statement in this account?" Mr. Kelley asked.

"Well, he got about $1800," Sands said.

"You said he borrowed that from you?"

"Well, I put it as a loan on my books, because I thought it would be better as a loan until he got ready to repay it."

"But it really was a part of this transaction, wasn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you not tell Mr. Walsh it was not?"

"No, sir. I did not say so."

"Then," Mr. Kelley continued, "he really did get $1800 out of the money you obtained from the discount of these notes."

"The first proceeds, yes, sir," Sands said.

"You swear that Mr. Bolling received $1800 out of the money you received from discounting the first note?"

"PUT DOWN AS LOAN."

Sands then said he had put it down as a loan "because it would look better and not because it was any different."

Sands also testified he had paid Cranor $5000.

"Did you pay Mr. Slater his?" Mr. Kelley asked.

"I think I loaned him $5000 and I think I paid him $5000."

"What do you mean by 'loaned him five and paid him five'?"

"I paid him five hundred about five in money, and then I loaned him."

"Out of the proceeds of this first note?"

"I don't know about the proceeds of the first note. I think I let him have about $5000 of the first note. Then I loaned him for his company, which he has not paid me, $5000 more. He paid me $500 back on that."

WAS PERSONAL LOAN.

Sands said the loan was a personal loan. He also said he was then secretary of the Shipping Board.

"And you paid it to him for his influence with somebody on the Shipping Board to get the contract for Downey?" Mr. Kelley asked.

"Well, I cannot say that," Sands replied.

"What was it paid for, then?"

"That is about it, yes, sir. We agreed that if we got the money he would get his, too."

The witness said he still had Slater's note for $5000, on which $4500 was still due, and that he could produce it.

Mr. Kelley asked Sands if Mr. Bolling's refusal to help him with the District Attorney at Washington had anything to do with Sands bringing him into the case.

"No, sir," said Sands. "I really regret bringing him in, because I am really devoted to him."

DENIAL BY BOLLING.

(By A. P. NICHOLS)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board, in a formal statement regarding charges of bribery made before the Walsh committee in New York against R. W. Bolling, treasurer of the board, declared that Mr. Bolling's explanation of the report was perfectly satisfactory.

"While the attitude of the chairman of the Shipping Board to render every possible assistance to the Walsh investigating committee," Chairman Benson's statement said, "he feels that in view of the serious charges made against a responsible official of the board, in order to reassure the public mind at the earliest possible date, he should make a statement."

The chairman said that after Mr. Bolling was appointed treasurer Mr. Bolling told him the whole story of the alleged charges made by Tucker K. Sands.

"His explanation was perfectly satisfactory," said Admiral Benson. "In addition, the matter was discussed with Col. Goff, our general counsel, and together we directed that a thorough investigation be made."

COPY OF REPORT.

Attached to the statement was a copy of the report of the investigation made by the division of investigation dated September 22. It was signed by Frank Burke, chief of division.

"I saw Houston Thompson, vice-president of the Federal Trade Commission and who was for some time up to the latter part of 1919, assistant Attorney-General," the report said, "who told me that Mr. Bolling came to him about two years ago and reported an unsolicited communication had reached Mr. Tumulty in which the writer charged he had accepted part of $40,000, which was paid by Downey of the Downey Shipbuilding Company to Tucker K. Sands."

"Mr. Bolling requested Mr. Thompson to make thorough investigation because of the fact he was charged with a serious crime and if he was guilty he should be punished; if innocent his innocence should be established. The letter, it seems, was either misplaced or destroyed so that nothing was done at the time."

GOT SECOND LETTER.

After receipt of a second unsigned letter which they believed emanated from the Sands family, Mr. Thompson said Mr. Bolling told him Tucker Sands had made "an urgent demand that he (Bolling) see the President and use his influence with the president to have activities of the Department of Justice stopped and have the prosecution against Sands stopped."

"Sands," the statement continued, "was under Federal indictment charged with violation of the banking act, on advice of Mr. Thompson and on advice of Mr. Tucker Sands telling him that while he regretted, he had become involved with the government, he

MAN IN MURDER CASE STRANGER?

Woman Here Denies Marriage to Eastern Prisoner.

Lives at Address Given in His Note to Jail.

Last Name Tallies, but She Disowns "Dennie."

A Los Angeles woman who is believed to be the wife of Dennis Chester, the man who is under arrest in Kansas City, charged with the murder of a young society woman, admitted yesterday that she was "Mrs. Chester," but denied that she was the wife of the man accused of murder.

which Chester wrote before he attempted to commit suicide in the Custer County Jail at Broken Bow, Neb., last Friday night. In this note he referred to his wife, who he said lived at the East First-street address.

"Yes, I am Mrs. Chester," the woman told The Times representative yesterday. Then, when she was asked several questions regarding Dennis Chester, she emphatically denied that she knew such a person. She repeatedly contradicted her own statements, as she conversed reluctantly through a small crack in the doorway. She said her husband's name was "William Chester," but that she was separated from him and had not seen him since last spring. She denied ever having received any mail from him, yet she admitted that he had informed her he was somewhere in Kansas.

SAYS SHE DOESN'T CARE. Mrs. Chester also stated she knew nothing of Dennis Chester being arrested on a murder charge, nor did she care for he was not her husband. She refused to give any information regarding "William Chester," the man she said is her husband, as it was nobody's business. Prior to slamming the door in the interviewer's face she said: "If I am wanted to testify, then I will talk, but not before then. I will tell what I know about William Chester, but not about Mr. Dennis Chester, for I do not know the man."

The Los Angeles police stated that they are convinced the woman is the wife of Dennis Chester. Two detectives have been keeping a constant vigil over the little shack which the woman calls "home."

The murder of Miss Florence Barton, Kansas City society woman, and the recent escapades of Dennis Chester have aroused Kansas City. Miss Barton was slain on October 3 while riding with her fiancé on a road two miles east of Kansas City. At the time of the murder, just before midnight, the road was deserted. The young couple had stopped by the roadside and Howard R. Winter, the girl's companion, was lighting a cigar when two bandits drove up in an automobile. The shooting followed and Miss Barton was shot through the heart. Mr. Winter was wounded in the arm.

He was asked how he was permitted to escape from the Kansas City detectives on the train. "Ask them," he replied. Later Chester said the detectives should not be blamed for his escape. A few hours after he was locked up in the Custer County Jail his unconscious body was found dangling at the end of a crude rope which he had woven from strips torn from his blanket. At an early hour yesterday he was pronounced out of danger. Before he recovered a note addressed to Sheriff Talbot was found on the cell floor. It was addressed to his wife in Los Angeles.

TO DELIVER LECTURE. Lucien N. Brunswick will speak on "A Few Flowers Picked in the Field of Franco-American Friendship," under the auspices of the University of Southern California, at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of the school. The lecture will include a discussion of the relations of the two republics both before and after the war, as well as the League of Nations outlook.

Craps Are Legal Under State Law, Is Jurist's View.

DOUBLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—The city authorities fail to agree with Superior Judge Lockwood, who has decided that merely the "shooting of craps" does not constitute violation of the State gambling laws.

Judge Lockwood has been quoted as stating that "two men can get out in the middle of the street and shoot craps and invite the Sheriff to look on. This is true of poker and panguing, for two or more men can get into a little private game of their own without conducting a percentage or banking game and not violate the law. This is the fault of the law."

According to Judge Lockwood an illegal gambling game is one that is conducted as a banking or commercial proposition, the gambler himself being merely an incidental and not illegal feature.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

D. & R. G. ROAD AUCTIONED OFF.

Western Pacific Company Buys at Minimum Price.

Stockholders' Committee Has Protest Read.

They Lose All, is Statement of Attorney.

DENVER, Nov. 20.—On the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Denver and Rio Grande Company today, all the property and holdings of the organization were sold to three men representing the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation for $5,000,000. The purchaser also assumed obligations of the Denver and Rio Grande amounting to $11,175,000.

The sale completely wipes out the stock of the Denver and Rio Grande, amounting to $8,775,670, according to John F. Bowie of New York, general counsel for the Western Pacific, and one of the three purchasers. The others associated with him were John B. Marsh and Ralph M. Arkush, both of New York.

JUDGMENT SATISFIED.

The road was sold to satisfy a judgment of $15,000,000 obtained by the Equitable Trust Company of New York as trustee for holders of bonds issued by the Western Pacific Railroad Company and guaranteed by the United States District Court.

Following the sale Mr. Bowie announced that although the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation now owns both the Western Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande roads, the lines would be operated separately.

TO FAVOR WESTERN.

"Of course," said Mr. Bowie in a statement, "there will naturally be a tendency to favor the Western Pacific on through business to and from the Pacific Coast."

The Rio Grande Western Railroad Company, recently incorporated in Delaware with a capitalization of $10,000,000, will be the holding company for the road sold today.

Mr. Bowie said, and an operating company with a name similar to that held by the old company will be organized soon.

Attorney C. P. Carline of Denver, representing the Denver and Rio Grande stockholders' protective committee, read a formal protest against the sale.

BANKER NAMED FOR RELIEF COMMITTEE.

MARCO HELLMAN ACCEPTS STATE APPOINTMENT MADE BY HERBERT HOOVER.

Marco H. Hellman, local prominent banker, yesterday accepted an appointment made by Herbert Hoover for Mr. Hellman to represent the American Jewish Relief Committee in California during a campaign next month to raise $200,000 in America for food, clothing and medical care of 3,000,000 children in Europe.

The plan of the campaign, as outlined in Mr. Hoover's telegram, is a co-ordination of the collection and distribution of the money by the following organizations: American Red Cross, American Friends Service Committee, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and the Federal Council of Churches.

Mr. Hellman is instructed to bring into play the entire organization of the Jewish committee in the State and to cooperate with representatives of other organizations in a joint committee. The other members will be selected later, the telegram indicates.

Several women leaders of important local activities also are to be asked to aid in the work and will be added to the joint committee as members, Mr. Hoover says. Distribution of millions of European children who are dependent solely on American charity at this time is given as the reason for the campaign.

The plan of the central committee, composed of Mr. Hoover, Livingston Farrand and Felix M. Farber, is to give support first to separate measures now pending by the component organizations and second to launch on December 15 a campaign extending to the holidays for a national collection in public places. Priority will be given children in the apartment houses of relief provided by the American offering, Mr. Hoover states.

FUNDS SECURED FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

"OUR BOYS' BAZAAR PROFITS FROM DONATED ARTICLES TOTAL LARGE SUM.

The bazaar conducted by the "Our Boys' Community Service for the benefit of disabled soldiers yesterday afternoon and evening at the Merchant Plumbers' Hall, 121 West Fifteenth street, was attended by hundreds of people and resulted in securing between $2500 and $3000 for soldiers in need of assistance.

Every article offered for sale had been donated. When it became known that the bazaar was needed by many of the men, sixty-seven of the warmest kind were sent to them directly.

Covina sent the largest and most distinctive community donation, its gifts covering several tables. Every article in the group was either made or grown in Covina.

All of the wholesale merchants of Los Angeles donated liberally, according to Mrs. Wilbur Higby, president of the "Our Boys' Community Service, who supervised the bazaar. Auctioneering and badge selling continued throughout the afternoon and evening, and the horns and whistles and ray caps added to the joyousness of the gathering. In the evening the hall was turned over to the young people for dancing.

Orville O. Jones, president of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, assisted Mrs. Higby in managing the sales, while "Bud" Jamison, put on stunts of salesmanship and of vaudeville. The use of the hall was donated.

WILL SPEED UP RED CROSS DRIVE.

Two-thirds of the two weeks' campaign to raise $100,000 for this district in the national fourth Red Cross roll call is past and but little more than one-third of the money needed to make Los Angeles a 100 per cent city has been subscribed.

Today is "follow-up" Sunday in the churches. From the pulpits ministers will urge their congregations to buy a badge of mercy and be on the honor roll for the forthcoming year. Volunteers will be placed in the vestibules of the churches to renew subscriptions and sell buttons to new subscribers.

Boy Scouts paraded the streets yesterday, urging men and women to subscribe. Many troops of Scouts marched in front of the beautiful Red Cross float to music furnished by the Page Military Academy Band.

Although complete returns from the sales of University of Southern California day have not been made,

THREE MORE BIG SHIPS.

The sailing of the palatial passenger steamer Golden State from Baltimore on February 15 will be the first step in a rearrangement of the fleet of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in such a way as to add three large vessels to the regular passenger service of this port, according to an announcement yesterday by the local offices of the company.

The United States Shipping Board has allocated five superb passenger steamers of the famous 535 type, to the company for its trans-Pacific service, and as soon as the vessels reach the Pacific and are ready for regular oriental traffic out of San Francisco they will be put to that use, releasing three other large vessels for service by way of this port to Mexico, Central America, Cuba and Baltimore.

The five 535s which are to be transferred to the Pacific are the Golden State, the Hoosier State, the Palmetto State, the Lone Star State and the Empire State. They are of 12,600 deadweight tons and carry 600 passengers and 11,500 tons of cargo, stored in eight hatches. Their turbines are capable of maintaining a speed of seventeen and one-half knots an hour. Spacious state-rooms, individual dressers, private baths and showers, electric reading lamps and private telephones add to the refinements of these vessels.

The other four will follow the Golden State at intervals of a few weeks through the spring and early summer and after a few alterations, will be placed in the service to the Orient. The Golden State is scheduled to come out from Baltimore in seventeen days, in which are included stops of from six to eleven hours in Havana, Cristobal, Balboa, La Libertad, San Jose de Guatemala and Los Angeles, arriving in San Francisco, March 4.

The initial voyage of the Golden State on the trans-Pacific route will begin May 19, and on that date the first of the three vessels released from that route will start its regular trips from San Francisco to Baltimore by way of Los Angeles and the other ports along the present Baltimore routing.

The three vessels to be released from the oriental service and added to that by way of Los Angeles to the eastern part of the United States are the Venezuela, the Colombia and the Ecuador, which will be transferred to this route next year, on May 15, July 3 and September 5, respectively.

Harding a "Fast" Man Now.

BY A. F. DAY WIRE. NORMAN (Okla.) Nov. 20.—President-elect Harding was elected to national honorary membership in the Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity, at the sixth national convention here yesterday.

Jokey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbe Cosmeceutic, and 1/4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

The Golden State is scheduled to come out from Baltimore in seventeen days, in which are included stops of from six to eleven hours in Havana, Cristobal, Balboa, La Libertad, San Jose de Guatemala and Los Angeles, arriving in San Francisco, March 4.

The initial voyage of the Golden State on the trans-Pacific route will begin May 19, and on that date the first of the three vessels released from that route will start its regular trips from San Francisco to Baltimore by way of Los Angeles and the other ports along the present Baltimore routing.

The three vessels to be released from the oriental service and added to that by way of Los Angeles to the eastern part of the United States are the Venezuela, the Colombia and the Ecuador, which will be transferred to this route next year, on May 15, July 3 and September 5, respectively.

THREE MORE BIG SHIPS.

The sailing of the palatial passenger steamer Golden State from Baltimore on February 15 will be the first step in a rearrangement of the fleet of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in such a way as to add three large vessels to the regular passenger service of this port, according to an announcement yesterday by the local offices of the company.

The United States Shipping Board has allocated five superb passenger steamers of the famous 535 type, to the company for its trans-Pacific service, and as soon as the vessels reach the Pacific and are ready for regular oriental traffic out of San Francisco they will be put to that use, releasing three other large vessels for service by way of this port to Mexico, Central America, Cuba and Baltimore.

The five 535s which are to be transferred to the Pacific are the Golden State, the Hoosier State, the Palmetto State, the Lone Star State and the Empire State. They are of 12,600 deadweight tons and carry 600 passengers and 11,500 tons of cargo, stored in eight hatches. Their turbines are capable of maintaining a speed of seventeen and one-half knots an hour. Spacious state-rooms, individual dressers, private baths and showers, electric reading lamps and private telephones add to the refinements of these vessels.

The other four will follow the Golden State at intervals of a few weeks through the spring and early summer and after a few alterations, will be placed in the service to the Orient. ### ANA TEAMS IN THE

CHAMPIONSHIP.

FULLERTON, SANTA ANA TEAMS IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

FULLERTON, Nov. 20.—In one of the hardest fought football battles in Orange county history the Santa Ana and Fullerton High teams played to a 7-7 tie here today. The result leaves the Orange League championship very much up in the air. Five thousand persons witnessed the contest.

When the game was called to a halt at 4:30 p. m. the Santa Ana team was leading by a score of 7-0. Fullerton was in a similar situation at the end of the first half. Either team could have scored in one more play.

Santa Ana's touchdown was made in the first quarter, and in the second period a Fullerton man kicked a punt and carried the ball over the goal line.

Pomona Sagehens Wallop Desperately Battling Occidental Tigers; Retain Conference Title.

SAGEHENS TALLY TWICE.

And a Touchdown, Both After Fumbles, Give Pomona Victory.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Blue and White cheerers nothing much to yell about. It was a Pomona victory, and so it will go down in the annals of the sport, but Occidental men consider it in the light of a great moral triumph.

In the matter of first downs Pomona had the edge with eight to her credit. Occidental had five.

PUNTING DUEL. The first quarter was devoted to a large punting duel between Holly Fullerton and Covington of Occidental, with honors see-sawing in favor of first one and then the other. Each delivered himself of several strong 35-yard boots. It was one of Covington's punts that an Occidental back fumbled on the Oxy 35-yard line, and Cooper recovered for Pomona.

Unable to dent the stonewall defense put up by the Occidental line, which was meant for Rich, but Norton intercepted the sphere and touched it down behind the last chalk mark for the first Pomona score.

SOME RUN. Soon after Ray Wilson, the newest of the Pomona stars, skipped around right end for thirty-five yards in the prettiest run of the day. This was the first time Pomona had made a first down, but Voorhies in three trials soon made the second. With the ball on the Occidental 14-yard line "Red" Jones, Corey, Hiltch and Powers and a few more live wires on the Oxy line, rose up to meet the Sagehen onslaught and it was thrown back, whereupon Ed Covington tried a place kick from the 24-yard line which went astray.

Some time later, after Hiltch had intercepted a forward pass and galloped to the Pomona 40-yard line, Fulton tried a place kick, but it was short.

COMES IN FOURTH. Occidental's next opportunity to score came in the fourth quarter, when Stanton's men started showering the Sagehens with forward passes. From their own 25-yard line the Tigers took the ball to the Pomona 40-yard line by short end runs and a clever lateral pass from Norton to Fulton, which gained fifteen yards.

From that point on a series of forward passes, first Hadden to Norton, then Norton to Hadden and Hadden to Norton, the Tigers reached the Pomona 12-yard line. Here the march stopped short, Brott making nothing on an end-around play, a forward pass was smeared and Hiltch lunged through and threw a Tiger back for a huge loss. Fulton tried a dropkick from the 25-yard line, but the ball never reached the goal line.

SPILLS BEANS. Covington punted, and the Tigers took up their forward passing again, but Warren Elliott spilled the beans by intercepting a pass, giving Pomona the ball on her own 35-yard line. After an interchange of kicks the Sagehens got the oval on the Oxy 42 yard line and hammered it to the 5-yard line, when the whistle blew.

Naming the heroes on the Occidental team who stopped the Pomona onslaught is to call the roster of all the men who played. Corey, Jones, Pearson and Hiltch had the best Sagehen backs stopped pretty well all day. Powers was handicapped by a bad knee, and Covington and Voorhies outfoxed him on two or three occasions. Brott, Long and Davidson on the ends let few runs get around them. Curtis played a bangup defensive game in the backfield, intercepting forward passes and tackling with deadly precision. Pud Hadden and Norton were there a million, as was Fulton with his long boogie.

PLAYS BEST. Ray Wilson played the best individual game for the Sagehens. Covington had few chances to shine, the Occidental line hurling him back with much gusto. Cooper, Rich, Denebrink and Voorhies played their usual high-class game.

In a preliminary contest the Oxy freshman team and Caltek "frosh" fought to a 7-7 tie. Settles scored for Caltek in the first quarter, after Tech had recovered a fumble on the 15-yard line. Oxy scored in the fourth quarter on a double pass. Argue getting the credit.

TEAMS FRACTURED RECORDS FOR WORKING HARD WITHOUT BEING ABLE TO GET AHEAD.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

This was one football game in which the game ran true to the cliche.

Coke experts all figured Pomona would defeat Occidental, and the Sagehens vindicated them.

Claremont has developed a species of Sagehen with teeth, which would spit in the eye of a catamount.

Only one point on which the coke experts seemed to be in doubt was the actual size of the score.

They have been sorely puzzled on this point, or if they knew wouldn't tell anybody about it.

NOT A SECRET. Now, it is no longer a secret. The point was settled when Pomona won by nine points to none—a decisive score, but not so long that the memory of it must be broken up by decimal points.

Pomona was first to score, rolling up two thunderous points early in the game on a safety.

Occidental guy caught Pomona forward pass back of his own line. O. G. seemed to believe in safety first, as he touched the ball on the ground.

A NEW RECORD. Anyway, it resulted in first safety seen in college circles hereabouts since Fred Thomson wore his bloomers with safety pins.

In second half, Pomona, with much labored breathing, bucked the piece de resistance across the 15-yard line for the only touchdown of the game. [Terrific applause.]

through center, which caused it to be scored also as a bulge.

FATAL WHISTLE. Sagehens were on their way to root again on the Oxy goal posts when the referee's tinny whistle brought the mutual slaughter to a merciful close.

This was followed by the long sprint of the paid patrons for the lone car line which had fed several thousand into the arena.

Getting the patrons out again caused the street-car line to suffer an acute attack of congestion with hardening of the brain on the part of the car crew.

In the second half, Oxy uncorked a series of short, snappy passes that carried the ball down to Pomona's ten-yard line.

ON HIS KNEES. This forced Brother Nixon into an attitude of prayer on the side line.

His supplications mingled with those which had already issued from the hole occupied by Fox Stanton.

Mr. Stanton, a fox, but still having the hair cut off his face doesn't bear such a close family resemblance.

Twice Occidental got close enough to justify attempts at place kicks, while Pomona tried one.

But the hoofs of Covington and Fulton veered and thundered without affecting the result.

MUCH DEFENSE. Some claimed they were teams without a punch, and others maintained they were two wonderfully matched elevens with superbly developed backbones.

Meaning that they had more resistance than forward movement.

Battle had a beautiful setting among the picturesque eucalyptus trees, which gave the air a cough drop flavor.

This offered a natural protection to the exposed tensils of the hard-talking rooters.

Simple home remedies rooting around in the air are cheaper than calling the doctor the next day.

Innovation was offered in the sale of cold hot dogs.

The hot dogs felt like they had been using a refrigerator for a kennel, which is in conformity with the poor food law.

Small boys with bad colds were to seek rooting in the eucalyptus trees hoping for an early recovery.

But there were no wrens in the trees. It is feared that all the Eagle Rock wrens have been exterminated by the bald-headed eagles.

LANDIS PERFORMS HIS FIRST OFFICIAL ACT.

[BY A. P. MORTIMER.] CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—The first official baseball call of Judge K. M. Landis in his capacity as chairman of the National Baseball Commission was to Cincinnati today.

He conferred with August Herrmann, former chairman of the National Commission relative to the removal of all baseball records to Chicago.

It is understood that they also informally discussed the division of the second-place prize money due to the Chicago White Sox for finishing second in the American League race last season.

"We have got to have a higher standard of integrity and honesty in baseball than in any other walk of life—and we are going to have it," said Judge Landis. "We are determined to heal the wounds suffered by the great national game and maintain the sport in the place it deserves in the heart of America."

TO TAKE IN "BIG GAME." Dr. Ben Fries, Dr. Dodge and Charles Keppen left yesterday morning by automobile for San Francisco, where they plan to witness the California-Banford football game this afternoon.

TO THE PUBLIC

THE price of Horse Shoe tires and tubes has been reduced. The manufacturers through this reduction are doing their share to bring living costs back to normal as rapidly as is consistent with sound business principles.

The extra cost put into their superior construction and the stability of the manufacturing company is sufficient guarantee that Horse Shoe tires will not be sold for "cut prices."

When tires are offered for sale for "cut prices" there is always a reason. In such cases the natural question is "Can any concern afford to stand back of such tires?"

There is a nationwide demand for every Horse Shoe tire that is made and because of this there is no surplus stock to be disposed of. There is no necessity to dispose of stock at "cut prices" in order to bolster up crippled finances brought about by overproduction or poor quality.

SHAKE TREE OF RIPE PLUMS.

of Important Government and City Positions to be Filled Shortly and Gossips Are Busy Filling Them; Nearly a Clean Sweep at Federal Building.

The biggest shaking of plum trees in the city has been going on since the announcement that the reorganization of the city government is to be completed in January. The plum tree of the city government is being shaken by the prospect of a new administration. The plum tree of the city government is being shaken by the prospect of a new administration.

He desires, appoint a successor to Mr. Gordon, who would hold office until the reorganization in July, but a temporary appointment is not expected. The reappointment of Public Works Commissioner Hugh J. McGuire, who was chosen to fill the late Lorin A. Handley's unexpired term is expected. This place carries a salary of $3000 a month. The reappointment of Fulton Lane to Board of Public Utilities will doubtless be made, because of his long experience on the board.

However, the job pays $3000 a year, and the collector has plenty of time to play politics if he is so inclined. Collector John E. Elliott took charge of the office in the summer of 1912, succeeding C. W. Pendleton. The latter had just been reappointed for another term of four years and was inclined to hold on if possible, but he was put to sleep by an order from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to Frank M. Cretcher, chief deputy, now deceased, ordering him to take charge of the office and withhold the pay of Collector Pendleton. Collector Pendleton concluded to quit. There is more than a bare possibility that history will repeat itself. It has been known to happen before. Names mentioned as possibilities for this job include Louis Schwabe.

AT FEDERAL BUILDING. Moving day already looms at the Federal building. The heads of the various departments already feel the cold, keen edge of the political axe at their necks.

Civil service rules prevail after a fashion, but it is only a fashion, in the most of the office, and those who are in jobs by grace of various brands of "pull," express a willingness to let the tail go with the hide. Inasmuch as there is nothing else in sight to do, their self-sacrifice is not as well developed as might appear at first blush.

LATIN-AMERICA TRADE BOOMING.

Exports from This City to Southern Republics Have More Than Doubled in Last Four Years; Industries Here Have Liking and Confidence of Purchasers.

The export trade of Los Angeles with Latin America has increased 140 per cent in the past four years, according to statistics compiled by consular representatives of eleven Latin-American republics in this city.

For the ten months ended Oct. 31, 1920, exports to the Latin countries from this port totaled $2,834,589.72. When the exports for November and December of this year are added, the Latin-American business going out of this port will have passed the $3,000,000 mark for 1920. The exports from Los Angeles to the countries under consideration amounted to approximately $1,250,000 in 1917, so that the gain of this year over that year will be at least 140 per cent. The ascent from the 1917 to the 1920 average has been, roughly, as follows: One-fourth of the gain was made in 1918, one-fourth in 1919 and one-half in 1920.

Exports from Los Angeles to the Latin-American countries mainly consist of cement, steel and general supplies are being used almost exclusively in the erection of the splendid system of docks, piers and general port facilities at Buenaventura, Colombia, which is being made into one of the most attractive ports of the Pacific Coast for large vessels.

The cement for this important undertaking is being supplied largely by the Riverside Portland Cement Company and the steel by the Southern California Iron and Steel Company, both of this city.

He found, both in Colombia and in the other countries in which he has traveled since he left here nearly two months ago, that Los Angeles is well known by progressive men in the Latin republics and that trade possibilities for this city are better there than ever before.

While a guest at the residence of Gen. Reyes, a former President of Colombia, he learned that the Colombian importer is in a receptive mood for California products, and that a splendid field presents itself there. He was surprised, he writes, to see how well informed the general and his friends were regarding this city, and also how far they have advanced in their plans for closer commercial relations with it.

MAY COME THIS WINTER. Gen. Reyes, whose hacienda comprises 192,000 acres of very fertile land, will probably come to this city.

CLOTHING PRICES FALL, BUT MAY AVIATE AGAIN.

Drop Over Twenty Per Cent in Three Months, but Retailers Say Manufacturers Plan New Rise.

Retail prices on wearing apparel have fallen from 20 to 30 per cent in Los Angeles during the past three months, local retailers said yesterday. In some cases there has been a cut of 25 per cent since August 1. It is declared, and the merchants also say there has been a 30 per cent drop as far as shoes are concerned.

Will the price trend continue downward? Merchants believe it will but while some think the movement will continue till a level is reached near that of prewar days others say that manufacturers are planning to bring about a new hoist in about six months. A leading Spring street retailer said yesterday that a temporary level has been reached by clothing prices which will hold until spring when a further reduction in prices is already being planned.

The fall really began last July when prices of silk shirts started to tumble. In August wool shirts followed suit and in October there came quite a slump in the cost of cotton shirts. One of the leading makers in the country advertised a cut of 30 per cent last month. This cut, it was stated, was to affect the spring goods only, but L. P. Frank of Harris & Frank stated yesterday that many local merchants have put their prices down to 25 per cent already.

The retailers' books show that their prices for collars fell 10 to 15 per cent two months ago, that silk hosiery prices have dropped from 20 to 25 per cent and that the same thing is true of underwear, cottons, woolens and silk. One of the best known brands of hats sells today for 50 per cent less than in August and shoes, in some cases, are 30 per cent lower.

GOING LOWER, HE SAYS. Reviewing what has happened in the way of price reductions and prophesying what may be expected, Mr. Frank said yesterday: "The public has done well. It has held off buying until they could see a low level in sight. The public has done the same thing. Prices are going lower, but not until spring, when new prices will be made. The people have a condition now that was expected by few and that is lower prices on building. The average person cannot seem to realize that it is possible to purchase suits for instance at as low prices as $35 to $50."

"In explanation of the drop Mr. Frank said: 'The price of men's wear were greater than on other articles. They had gone higher. When a decline was coming, it was only natural that men's apparel should be the first to feel it.'"

Some merchants informed investigators that, while the prices on men's and women's clothing and furnishings are today 10 per cent less than they were in August, they are 50 per cent below those that prevailed last February.

Tracing the course of prices since the war broke out in August, 1914, it was found that in Los Angeles the cost of wearing apparel took a slight dip shortly after the conflict started and curved still lower during the fall of 1914. During the winter and more noticeably in the spring of 1915 it started to climb and kept on climbing until January and February of this year, when the peak prices "tipped" about 25 per cent. The present retail prices, according to well-informed students of market conditions, a reduction of 20 to 30 per cent, bringing the wholesale prices will be kept up because of the limited amounts offered for sale.

SOME STILL RISING. The downward swing has not been so pronounced in some lines of merchandise as in others. While in wholesale prices have been dropping, while in others they have been gradually rising. In a few instances there are still lines which continue to move up on the whole, as price demand, in spite of the drop.

THE POSTMASTERSHIP. The postmaster is one of the good things to be handed out by the new administration. The job pays $1800 a year. The present incumbent, Harrison Brown, was appointed May 1, 1914, but did not assume control of the office until July of that year. His predecessor, W. H. Harrison, held on temporarily until the end of the year. The four-year term would have expired in May, 1918, but some of the Democratic enemies of the postmaster, succeeded in holding up his reappointment until Aug. 15, 1919. Mr. Brown is hopeful that the Republican campaign in this county, retained but he says he is through.

INTERNAL REVENUE CHIEF. Internal Revenue Collector John P. Carter says his resignation will be on the desk of the new administration at noon on March 4, 1921. The collector has no specified term of office, but holds during the pleasure of the Washington authorities. The pay is now $4000 a year, having been increased from $3400, which was the figure when Claude Parker was collector. It is now based on the income tax returns of the country's estate notes. A movement was recently launched among local Republicans to have Collector Carter retained but he says he is through.

FOR U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY. If U. S. Atty. Robert O'Connor is allowed to complete his four-year term he will hold on to Jan. 1, 1922. He succeeded Albert Schenover, who resigned in the fall of 1917, to accept a position with the government in what is known as the Southern Pacific oil litigation. Mr. O'Connor held over by appointment of Judge Bledsoe and Trippe for some months but was later on commissioned for the four-year term by the President. Mr. O'Connor came to Los Angeles from San Diego as an assistant in the office of Mr. Schenover.

The pay is now $4000 a year, not enough to attract any attorney looking for anything beyond the advertising the place affords. There are five assistants, the pay of the first being $3000 a year and the others $2800, by a very recent adjustment of salaries. Civil service does not prevail in the selection of subordinates. All that is necessary is the approval of a selection made by the head of the office by the Attorney-General.

While there are at present no active candidates in the field for this job, the names of State Senator Charles Lyon, who unsuccessfully opposed Dist. Atty. Woolwine in the August primary election, and Joseph Burk, a Santa Ana attorney, are mentioned as possibilities.

LAND OFFICE. The local Land Office is not at the importance that it was before the erection of a district office here as the location of an additional office.

The positions of Register and Receiver pay $2000 a year, and the present incumbents, Benjamin Groves and Alexander Mitchell, respectively, have some time to serve.

provided they are allowed to complete their four-year terms. The job pays on a percentage basis, not to exceed $1000 a year, each for the Mayor and Receiver, based on the income of the office. These fees arise for the most part on relinquishment.

FOR MARSHALCY.

The job of United States Marshal pays but $3000 a year, but it is not such a bad billet, when it is known that there is nothing to do on the job but to keep a set of books that can be given over to a deputy convenient with just what funds certain bills are to be paid from. The incumbent, C. T. Walton of Fresno, was last commissioned for four years from March 1, 1914, which would allow him until that date in 1922, provided he is not given a hint that his room is needed by somebody else. In addition to chief deputy, at $2400 a year, there are nine deputies in the local office, and one each at San Diego and Fresno. There are no civil service laws to interfere with the selection of some deserving Republican, with the passing of the incumbent.

CLASPS AND CROSSES FOR MARINES ARRIVE.

MANY STYLES OF DECORATIONS FOR VARIOUS OFFENSIVES AND SERVICE ZONES.

Victory medals, clasps, crosses and silver stars and Maltese crosses have arrived at the Marine Corps recruiting station, 269 Kerkhoff Building, for distribution to former officers and men of the Marine Corps who served between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918.

The battle clasps will be issued with each medal to such officers and men who served in the following major operations: Alsace-Marne offensive, July 18 and 19, 1918; St. Mihiel offensive, Sept. 12 to 14, 1918, and the Meuse-Argonne offensive, Oct. 1 to 10 and Nov. 1 to 11, 1918. In addition to the major operations mentioned, a defensive sector clasp is awarded for service in one or more of the following engagements: Verdun sector, March 12 to May 5, 1918; Chateau Thierry, June 5 to July 4, 1918, and the Marbache sector, Aug. 1 to 14, 1918.

Not more than one defensive sector clasp will be awarded to any individual, and the total number of clasps or bronze stars to which any one may be entitled is five; i. e., four battle clasps and one defensive sector clasp, with one bronze star for each clasp. The stars are for wear in the service ribbon or bar as it is sometimes called.

For Marines who reached France and who did not get into action, a

There are several active candidates of this office, each of whom has considerable support. They are Albert C. Sittel, present chief deputy marshal, a civil service appointee; Joseph Nolan, a brother of Congressman Nolan of San Francisco; and Charles Appiettili, Sheriff of Imperial county, all good men and efficient officers. Mr. Nolan was actively connected with the recent Senatorial campaign of Samuel M. Shortridge, and is said to be regarded favorably by the new Senator-elect. Sheriff Appiettili has long been active in Republican politics in his end of Southern California. Deputy Sittel is favored by the Federal Building group and is thoroughly familiar with the job. U. R. Commissioner Long is secure in his job, at least while Judge Bledsoe and Trippet keep their health. They picked on the Long Beach Democrat in April, 1918, closely following the death of D. M. Hammack, who had been named by Judge Trippet for the place. Commissioner Long was selected by Judge Bledsoe. The commissioner holds during good behavior. The pay is regulated altogether by fees and they now amount to about $1000 a year, thanks to the efforts to enforce the prohibition laws.

clasp marked "France" will be awarded for wear with the Victory medal and a Maltese cross, instead of a bronze star, will be issued for wear in the service ribbon or bar. Clasps are also awarded for duty with the Grand Fleet, Asia Fleet, Atlantic Fleet and for patrol, escort, aviation and overseas duty, for which one star in service ribbons is authorized. The "Overseas" clasp is for service on shore in Allied or enemy countries of Europe. Therefore, a man who served only in some port in Belgium or England would be entitled to the "Overseas" clasp.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR FOREIGN LADS.

The Americanization department of the Y.M.C.A. has arranged to open an employment bureau under the direction of Fred Meyer, secretary, to secure jobs for a large number of the 567 boys of foreign parents at present enrolled in Y.M.C.A. Americanization groups. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday. ## COST OF APPAREL LOWERS.

Some Merchants Look for Further Cuts, Others Think New Hoist May Come.

A popular line of men's hose is illustrative of what has taken place at one extreme. These socks were selling before the war at $4.50 a dozen to the retailer. By steady stages the price demanded by the manufacturers moved up to $10.50. Then in February something happened to socks and happened in an awful hurry. Within six months those socks had receded to 4.45 to the retailer, or almost to the former low level. In this particular case, however, the merchant who sold those socks here at 46 cents on the old level, kept the price down to never more than 70 cents a pair, with the result that, because he happened to have bought two or more years ahead on this commodity, he was able to hold it as a "lead" through all that time, increasing his price to the customer only 40 per cent. That sock is now selling for 55 cents here.

Wash goods and silks similarly have today reached the point where they are from 50 to 55 per cent below the levels of February 1918.

DIFFICULT POSITION.

The silk and woolen markets show better than any other how difficult is the position of the retailer as a result of the strong organization and the complete, or nearly complete, control of the market enjoyed by the manufacturers. The Japanese silk grower and the American wool grower have almost been ruined by the low prices which they have had to accept.

Meanwhile the manufacturers, instead of passing on to the retailer the reductions which were originally made by the producer, have attempted artificially to keep the wholesale market up and have only yielded 50 per cent when they have benefited by reductions in the raw materials amounting to fully 100 per cent. In an effort to meet this situation, dry goods stores and ladies and men's furnisiers and retailers generally have adopted a hand to mouth buying policy, hoping thereby to force the manufacturers to make reductions. They have adopted a policy toward the public, meanwhile, of reducing prices step by step as the wholesale prices come down. The result has been that the past seven or eight months retail prices in virtually all lines have been coming down in a series of reductions amounting to 10 to 15 per cent in each case.

WAREHOUSES FILLED.

Japan, the chief source of the silk supply, is in a serious condition because American and Japanese manufacturers, working in conjunction, have shut down the silk factories and have stored the raw materials until such time as they feel ready to renew production.

English and American woolen manufacturers have similarly filled the warehouses with raw wool in the hope of forcing the retailer to meet their terms. Cotton has been similarly, though not so successfully, handled by manufacturers.

In their efforts to get the manufacturer to come down to earth

BOOZE VENDORS USE POOR LAW.

Get Freedom After Serving Only Month in Jail in Lieu of Fines.

Convicted violators of the Volstead Act have discovered a new way to escape payment of fines imposed. They simply serve thirty days in the County Jail, make a pauper affidavit and under the law must then be released.

Three obtained their liberty in this manner yesterday and were released by U. S. Commissioner Loe. In one case it was necessary for the government to pay a convicted man's fare here from Santa Barbara so that he could appear before the commissioner.

*****

The retailers have adopted a policy of extremely cautious buying. They have turned to the jobbers, who in many cases bought up tremendous stocks of staple commodities, and have been doing most of their purchasing from them instead of from the wholesalers as formerly.

Well-posted business men predict that the present price level will prevail, in general, but with various minor fluctuations, for eight or nine months, which is the extreme length of the period for which the stocks in the hands of the jobbers will be sufficient to meet the requirements of the retailer and, through the retailer, of the public.

STRESSES NEED FOR NEW SEWER

City Engineer's Report Says Delay Now Dangerous.

Annual Summary Shows Vast Highway System Here.

Grade Crossing Eliminations Now Vital Problems.

Orders for street improvements and sewer connections more than doubled in the fiscal year ending June 30 over the number of similar orders for the preceding twelve months, says the annual report of City Engineer Grimes, just printed for submission to the City Council, and the rapid growth of Los Angeles makes the demand for a new outfall trunk sewer to the ocean pressing.

The city's growth may be measured by the fact that during the fiscal year almost 1,000 miles of main sewers were constructed, and almost nine miles of house sewer lines were laid, bringing the total length of the system up to 975 miles, the report says.

Dedicated streets of Los Angeles, if placed end to end, would stretch from New York City to the coast of France, and on into Europe, almost to the Rhine in one place. The total mileage of streets here is now 2,000 miles, of which 522 miles are paved and 722 are graded and all are bordered with cement walks and curbs.

CROSSING DANGER GROWS.

This immense street system, coupled with a population referred to in the report as approximately 400,000 residents, makes the elimination of grade crossings, both of steam transcontinental and electric interurban lines, extremely urgent. The more dense the population becomes, the more vital the need for grade crossing elimination, the report says, and points out that the longer it is deferred the more property increases in value and adds to the ultimate cost of an improvement that will, in the end, have to be made.

The engineering department of the city now has 1,200 employees, but even that large force is more than 100 less than the force of the year before, and work of the department and all of its branches is said to be handicapped by the fact that capable, trained men are continually leaving to accept other positions which pay better salaries.

Sixty engineers and draftsmen resigned from the street planning and storm sewer department alone during the year to take positions elsewhere at better salaries.

COVERS WIDE RANGE.

Disbursements for the whole engineering department of the city during the last fiscal year are given in the report as $2,598,848, and activities of the different bureaus cover such diverse matters as street paving and trying to eliminate mosquitoes from marshy breeding grounds near the harbor, from repairing city automobiles to preparing plans for such projects as the proposed Second-street tunnel.

Harbor development plans also are handled in the City Engineer's office, and in his report that official says:

"The enormous growth of the harbor will call for future expenditures far in excess of bonds already voted, but as the greatness of the city depends considerably upon the development of the harbor, no objection to future bond issues can be anticipated, especially if we judiciously expend the moneys now available as the most needed improvements."

Odd items in the report are many. One shows that a large force of men is kept busy cleaning gutters. During the year 3640 miles of city gutters were cleaned at a cost of $13.37 per mile and the bill for this work for the year totaled $109,130.

TRUCKS GET BLAME.

That was not the end of the trouble with the gutters. The increase in the traffic of heavy trucks has added to the department's expense, for when these trucks back up to the curbing they break the old style wide concrete gutters. All during the year a gutter repair gang of five men was kept busy repairing damage of this kind, and now new gutters are being made only twelve inches in width and will escape the destructive action of the truck wheels by narrow margin.

Collection of garbage and rubbish is another costly activity. During the year 12,507 tons of garbage were collected at an average cost of $12.23 per ton, a total cost of $153,157. The rubbish is estimated as having amounted to 15,245 cubic yards. It cost 59 cents a cubic yard to collect this and haul it away, or a total of $7,749—a combined rubbish and garbage bill of $216,273.

Inspection charges on construction of new sewers are larger than ever before because, says the City Engineer, "a force of laborers in former times performed nearly double the quantity of work in the same time that they now perform it, thus nearly doubling the cost of inspection per unit."

CALEDONIAN CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT-DANCE.

The Caledonian Club in conjunction with the Los Angeles Scottish Pipe Band will hold its annual St. Andrew's benefit concert entertainment and dance in Blanchard Hall, 223 South Broadway, next Friday night.

The program will be given by the local Scotch talent, and will include songs by Margaret Tait, Beatrice Maud MacGillivray, Robert Melkie and John Buchanan, bagpipe selections by the band and Scott's readings by John Brand. Bob Dunlap will appear as Harry Laidler.

Highland dancing numbers will be presented by Jeanie Gordon and her pupils, Jessie Smellie, Devina Wood, Dorothy Cooley, Callum McKinnon, Victor Rankin, Mildred McKinnon, Margaret McCubbin and Lloyd McKinnon.

FILE BANKRUPTCY BILL.

A bill was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by Haas, Baruch Company, Bishop & Co., and Klausner, Wangenheim Company, asserted creditors of M. Shimoda, asking that he be declared bankrupt. Various charges of bankruptcy are made. Haas, Baruch Company is the largest creditor, with a bill of $633.48.

AID SOCIETY NEEDS CASH.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Los Angeles county is starting its annual drive for new members and the renewal of old memberships.

The organization cares for unfortunate, destitute and orphaned children, maintaining a home in South Pasadena that at present shelters 125 children, 60 per cent of whom are from the city of Los Angeles.

The annual report of the institution shows that approximately $27,000 was expended to operate the home last year; of this amount, half was furnished by the State, county and parents; the other half was contributed, for the most part, by the people of Pasadena and South Pasadena.

Contributions are received through memberships as follows: Annual membership, $2 to $5; subscribing membership (annual), $10; contributing membership (annual), $25; supporting membership (annual), $100; life membership, $150; life patron, $250.

Anyone wishing to secure any of these memberships may do so by sending a personal check addressed to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, South Pasadena.

years, paying $27.50 a month rent. She was notified her rent would be raised to $50 a month on December 1 and secured other apartments.

It was shown that Miss Williams paid her rent and numerous additional charges for breakages. She had packed all her belongings but the clothes she had on, and a tooth brush, in her trunk, while her roommate packed all her clothes in suit cases. The suit cases were carried away, but when a dry-cleaner called for the trunk it was held.

Miss Williams sued through the aid of the Public Defender. She testified she had installed three high-powered electric globes herself and those belonging to the apartment were in a bureau. The towels she did not take, nor did she break the pie plate, she said. She said she had been forced to borrow clothes from friends for six weeks.

HELD ON CHARGES OF SMUGGLING CHINESE.

Joe Pearson and Marwood Lindsey, colored men accused of being smugglers of Chinese, were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday and held in $1000 bond each. They were captured by Immigration Inspector Chaffin.

FLOATING LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS FOUND.

Members and officers of Semi-Tropic Lodge, I.O.O.F., learned of the existence of a lodge previously unknown to them when last week they received a challenge from the Odd Fellows Lodge maintained on the U.S.S. Mississippi at the harbor here.

The lodge on the battleship wants to compete with the local degree staff in ritualistic work. Details may be arranged this week.

repeating this, she goes around and around her cage until she is too dizzy to get up. Then she falls down on her back in the middle of the cage, her two feet sticking up in the air, and laughs and laughs in great fits.

To hear that little green bird's laugh is a genuine treat; it is so infectious that it has made me laugh. Another little act that Polly stages is that of clinging with her claws to the bars of her cage and hanging down. Again, she will take a table-spoon, thrust it crosswise over the bars, and then she will hang down. "Why?" ejaculated Polly in answer to the question, "What for?" and pecked and peered down at the dowry balls. Polly had never seen a kitten. She put two and two together and triumphantly sang out: "My! Kitty! Kitty!"

Polly has real talent for "be-talk," and also for mimicry of certain vocalizations of her own species. She is very responsive to most singing; it is merely a jumble of jargon words with here and there a word, usually "Nelly," that Polly makes-

When Food Doesn't Digest

Give the Stomach a Rational Rest by Proper Aid; Not by Harsh Starvation Methods. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A new stomach may indicate an acid condition that calls for an alkaline effect.

Take you will get from one or two

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after a meal. Four tablets, maximum, a heavy bloated feeling and such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia are usually only temporary. And yet they may lead to serious disorder. The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals reflects to a high degree the intelligent selection of preventive measures.

One cannot always select or inspect the quality of food to be eaten nor its method or manner of preparation. But it is possible to avoid acidity that is so often the result. And it is a far better plan to eat without worry over what may happen, than to starve for fear it will happen. Many physicians recommend these tablets for stomach distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

They are sold by all druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box.—(Advertisement.)

PILGRIMS USED IN GAY COMEDY.

High School Students Ready for Wednesday Event.

Thanksgiving and Mayflower Landing Days Joined.

Art Exhibit Shows New Ways of Teaching History.

The New World Merry Mounters "broached a hoghead of wine and one of ale, and had high revel and carousal, and the spectators with them." One trembles to think of the consequences of such a revival today. But if it were attempted, and if word went out that a hoghead of wine and one of ale, was about to be "broached" at a high school performance, or at any performance, or even in the depths of a solemn cellar, the stampered for tickets of admission would probably be a thing long to remember.

But, forgetting or trying to forget, the use of a stage hoghead, the play is unusual and has already attracted many interesting spectators to rehearsals.

GLOOMBS WIN IN END.
In the end the Puritans got the upper hand, suppressed Merton and his Merry Mounters, and tried more strenuously than ever to crush the spirit of youth and joy in New England. All that is made clear in the play, but the picture of the Puritans of the city will be on exhibition Wednesday, in the rooms of Miss Bertha Breckenfeldt, 419 South Olive street.

As supervisor of the primary arts department for the city schools, Miss Breckenfeldt has so shaped the efforts of the youngsters as to get them to produce some remarkably effective work in connection with the life of the Pilgrims.

MADE OF CUT PAPER.
One of the hundreds of exhibits is exceptionally effective. It is the work of a class under Miss Grace Russell, in the Sierra Vista school, and represents the Mayflower coming shoreward against a background of ocean bewitched by moonlight. It is all done by the clever pasting on of carefully cut out pieces of paper against an equally well-made background.

Then there are whole villages, with meeting houses and log cabins and stocks and trees, all clipped out of paper and made to stand up realistically. For several days primary grades of this kind were on display in the Public Library and attracted serious inspection from thousands of little children, not yet old enough for school, who had gone there to enjoy the regular

WOMAN ATTACKS COURT OFFICER.

Becomes Hysterical After Plea for Complaint is Rejected.

Attached by a hysterical woman last Wednesday, Dep. Dist. Atty. Joss was saved from a beating by the timely intervention of two officers. It was learned yesterday at the District Attorney's office, The name of the woman was not given out, and Mr. Joss denied the report that she attempted to strike him with a knife. The woman had asked for a complaint against a man she said had wronged her daughter. Because sufficient evidence was not given, the complaint was refused and the woman became hysterical, according to the report.

story hour. The three homes of the Pilgrims, England, Holland and America, are made very real to the youngsters because they actually make them themselves and look at them and measure them. Even the coast line of New England does not look forbidding to a youngster who has made it all for himself on his own table, and who has navigated boats of his own construction safely along the shore.

NOBLES PLAN YULE CHEER.

Al Malaitah Shriners are without an auditorium this year, but that will not prevent them from holding their annual charity ball and carrying out plans for the Christmas relief work, by which for the past fourteen years they have brought Yuletide cheer into thousands of desolate homes and made glad the hearts of thousands of children, whose dreams of Santa show him wearing a Shriner's fez.

This year's charity ball will be held at the Brunton studios, 5341 Melrose avenue, on Thursday evening, December 2, and promises to be more unusual than any of the brilliant functions which have marked the beginning of Al Malaitah's annual charity seasons. The dancers will make merry on the gigantic Brunton stage, the largest in the world, and it is expected that the many features being planned for the evening's entertainment will bring Al Malaitah Shriners and their friends out in full force.

Preparations for the ball are being rapidly perfected. Yesterday tickets were mailed to the members of the order from headquarters in the Trust and Savings Building. Modley H. Flint has been appointed chairman of the Christmas relief work, which he has handled each year since the inception of the idea, and James W. Jump will again superintend the Christmas tree festivities for the kiddies, which the Shriners make an annual part of their joy-giving activities.

"The Shriners' slogan for this year," said Mr. Flint, "is based upon the child's divine right to Christmas cheer. Each $5 will provide a happy Christmas for five kiddies, and so with each group of tickets the appeal is sent of 'Five little faces, wistful and sad. Need just YOUR five to make them glad.'"

TO GIVE COMIC OPERA.
Scene of High School Offering is in Puritan New England.

"The Captain of Plymouth," a three-act comic opera of the Puritan days of America, will be presented at the Huntington Park Union High School next Tuesday and Wednesday by the combined dramatic, gymnasium and domestic arts departments of the school under the direction of Miss Jessie E. Kistler, dramatic instructor.

Margaret Breckenfelder as Priscilla and Lehard Gresham as Miles Standish take the leads. Two other characters well known in American history, John Alden and Elder Brewster, portrayed by Edgar Le Petit and Dana Tyson, respectively, are also important factors in the production. The cast in all numbers sixty persons. The high school

Here's the Second Shipment of Those Pearl Necklaces

'way less than half at $2.50

—You see, the insurance company paid the loss, as water had entered the hold of the vessel which carried these pearl necklaces.

—Fortunately, however, the pearl necklaces were uninjured, simply the cases and carbons being water stained.

—About a month ago we announced the first lot of 720 strings—and the entire shipment was quickly exhausted.

—Think how much more timely this announcement is, just previous to Thanksgiving and the holidays.

—You see the importer was enabled to dispose of them to us at a small fraction of their original worth. And when we offer them to you at $2.50 each you may be sure it's an opportunity while.

—Was-filled pearl beads in strings 15 1/2, 18, 21 and 24 inches in length; graduated sizes. Choice of any string at $2.50.

—No boxes will be furnished at this extremely low price.

THE DANCE.

Bohemian Club Formed.

A group of pupils from Marion Morgan's School for Dancing and Drama have formed a society which they call the "Bohemian Club." The purpose of the club is to meet for mutual advancement in the dance and dramatic arts. Miss Morgan was a luncheon Thursday at the Victor Hugo. Covers were marked for Josephine McLean, Meeka Adrich, Esther Sommer, Elia Forsyth, Lucy Hummel, Hildegarde Silver, Adelaide Kellogg, Mildred Murphy, Charlotte Wadsworth, Edith James, Katherine Vidor, and Marjorie Maughlin. The club is planning a week-end party in the Sierra Madre. Miss Morgan will accompany as chaperon.

Associated with Mr. Smart is Mary Louise Doherty from New York, Miss Doherty will conduct a private kindergarten at the studio.

Miss Elizabeth Schreier, an advanced student of the Norma Gould School for Dancing, has been given the direction of all dancing by the chorus in "Antigone." A Greek tragedy to be presented by the dramatic department of the Santa Monica High School.

Miss Schreier is the possessor of some real Greek music which she is adapting.

With Josephine Spaul, another Norma Gould dancer, she gave an entire program for the Highland Ebell Club yesterday. The dances were accompanied by Helen Tappe, pianist.

St. Denis Dancers.

Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the 12th Unit, at Trinity Auditorium. This was a repetition of their first concert of the season to demand a second presentation.

Several new dances were added, notably the Greek dance of Ted Shawn and the Debussy "Golem" of the Greek dance of Grace Carson. The Knabe Ampico was used for the majority of the dances. Everett Clive, pianist, assisting for some of the ensembles.

Egan School Dancers.

The Egan School's department of dancing announces a performance for early in December. Miss. Fager, director, has designed all costumes and arranged the dances.

Dance to Stay Here.

Miss Arnold, dancer, who has declared her intention of remaining permanently in Los Angeles, has been placed in charge of the ballet and classical dances at Payne's Academy, 2818 Orange street.

Miss Arnold has toured with the stars of the theatrical world in Europe and America, chiefly with Olga Nemesle, the famous emotional actress.

Baritone at Redlands.

Edwin Albright, baritone, formerly of the Columbia Quartet of Chicago, and a recent addition to vocalists in Los Angeles was presented, with success, by the local Council of the Knights of Columbus of Redlands, at the banquet held at their clubhouse recently.

Mr. Albright was heard in a group of songs, which included "Invictus" by Kipling, and "Invictus" by Kipling.

Title from Redlands.

Clementine Palmese, soprano, who has been meeting with success at Tully's Broadway, has been causing considerable speculation as to the origin of her professional title. "The Italian Nightingale." Miss Palmese is a daughter of Italy, but her attractive appearance was not appreciated by people of her own land, but instead by men in the American army camps, who heard her sing on so many occasions during the war period.

WOMEN'S WORK AND WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE

Friday Morning Club. If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, the way to the heart of Los Angeles, and the soul as well, is through the dining-room of the Friday Morning Club. At least the latter sentiment may be deduced from the remarks of Mrs. A. S. Lobinger, chairman of the executive building committee of the club, who spoke at the morning session, Friday, at her inimitable, though oft imitated way, on the necessity of added contributions to the building funds for the proposed clubhouse.

No greater contrast in luncheon speakers could be seen than Capt. O. C. Rose of the Royal Air Force of Great Britain, who was the uniform of that service through here in November, and Dr. H. Marvin of the Industrial Welfare Commission of the State of Washington, for one was young in years, whereas the other is young in spirit but mature in years.

Capt. Rose spoke as so many real heroes do, objectively of the war and his part in it. He told how many machines there were to a squadron, the importance of the airplane as the war progressed—how he enlisted from Canada almost at the very beginning of the war, how he was devoted to drop bombs more accurately, where he was stationed from time to time, how he was in the air, but how necessary it was to learn to do so, of his flying in France, at Cambrai and after the armistice in Russia, when some of the Allied troops were matched against the Bolshevik army, and then in a casual way of how he brought down Lieut. Diet, who had demolished fifty-six Allied airplanes. He did not mention that he had brought down twenty-seven others and was decorated.

Capt. Rose then told how he talked in Cambrai with the lieutenant who had shot Quentin Roosevelt. "He himself," said Capt. Rose, "that Roosevelt's comrades did not desert him, but that Roosevelt deliberately turned back to his comrades with the very evident purpose of fighting seven enemy airplanes. He did it bravely and died gallantly fighting tremendous odds."

"The next war will be an air war, huge, with spectacular formations in the air now only dreamed of, but it will be the last air war, for men will learn the horrible conditions of the air and will not go on." Capt. Rose went on, "We need a proper, well-organized League of Nations to prevent war."

Dr. Marvin's program was both poetic and dramatic in its nature, and for the idealism of the girl in labor that she should have "not only bread, but roses."

"Judgment day," he said, "is no longer regarded as a framework on the part of a few priests. It is for all of us, and it is the working girl gets a few roses along with her bread."

The morning speaker, who traced the influence of one English novelist upon another from the days of Fielding and before to George Eliot and Meredith, was Prof. Frederic T. Blanchard of the English department of the State University, southern branch.

After lunch Lady Gilbert Parker, who was the guest of honor, presided by the club members in the reception-room downstairs, together with the speakers of the day.

Women's City Club. At the meeting of the Women's City Club tomorrow in Lincoln Hall, Walker Auditorium, at 1 p.m., the speaker will be Charles Brandon Booth of the Volunteers of America. The subject will be "The Reclamation of the Prisoner."

Following the program, Mrs. E. T. Brin will hold her class in conversational French. Nonmembers may obtain tickets at the door admitting them to the program.

Common Club. Mrs. Sidney Thomas, Exley, president of the Los Angeles district board of women's clubs, has invited members of the Common Club to be her guests Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Eboli clubhouse to meet Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, State president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and her officers.

Mrs. Exley has charge of the program. All members of the Common Club are invited to attend.

Club Paragraphe. Mrs. Miriam Meredith, Mrs. Elsie Doremus and Eugene Manlove Rhodes, the latter author of "West is West," will be the speakers for the Women's Press Club at the meeting Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in the Eboli clubhouse.

The only appearance of Theo Karik, American novelist, is to be seen when he appears with the Women's Lyric Club. Others to appear on the program are Miss Modesta Mortenson, Verne Marie Deloit, Ruth May Schaffner and Louis Kohlmeier, all members of the club.

Mrs. Gertrude Darlow addressed the short story section of the Women's Press Club Friday on the short story from an analytical point of view.

The Shakespeare Club of Pasadena is issuing invitations to the annual reciprocity day, Tuesday, the 26th inst., when there is to be a reception preceding the luncheon, and distinguished guests to speak afterward. Reply should be made to Mrs. W. N. Van Nuys, 565 North Raymond avenue.

G. Gordon Whitwell, secretary of the City Planning Commission, will speak before the Inglewood Women's Club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. L. M. Frey will have charge of the musical program and Mrs. Samuel Green, chairman of civic for the club, will preside. Members of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce are guests for the day and tea will be served after the program. Last Wednesday was social day, with music, cards and refreshments. This successful affair was the first of a series of six for the benefit of the clubhouse fund.

Florence Nightingale Chapter. Daughters of the British Empire, will give a dance Tuesday, at 8 p.m., in the Friday Morning clubhouse. The recent, Miss I. Mar- Arthur, hopes to welcome all old friends and many new ones. The proceeds will be devoted to the philanthropic work of the chapter. Miss R. J. Alexander is chairman of arrangements for the evening and has planned a series of card games for those who do not dance.

Shakespeare. Mrs. Myra A. Davis, chairman of the social service committee of the Pasadena Shakespeare Club, will have charge of the meeting of Tuesday in the clubhouse, when the annual offering of fruit, vegetables, clothing and money will be brought for the Edna Alter Home, the Children's Training School on Del Mar street, the Day Nursery, the Scripps Home for Old Ladies and the Boy and Girl Home in South Pasadena.

Receiving special permission from Booth Tarkington, author of the play, "The Country Cousin," Miss Jeanette King, who is interesting club circles here, readings at the present time, will present this clever play at the Tuesday meeting. The music department, with Mrs. J. W. Morris as chairman, and the Shakespeare department, with Mrs. Newell Matson Hayden as director, will unite in presenting the morning program.

The luncheon speakers are to be Mrs. Frances Edmonds and Miss Vida Hills of New York.

West Eboli. Emphasizing the fact that civics began around the hearthstone, Mrs. Charles H. Edmonds, chairman of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke before the West Eboli Club Wednesday.

She illustrated her well-known points by reading from well-known writers.

Mrs. W. W. Hoppe spoke for the Woodcraft League and Mrs. B. L. Woodward reviewed the "White Skirts in the South Sea Islands," by Frederick O'Brien. This was followed by a merry discussion of the merits of the book.

A parliamentary class was organized with Mrs. J. M. Matthews as leader.

On Tuesday Mrs. Claire Foster Ooms will speak on "Human Making Instead of Housekeeping." Mrs. M. E. Patty is the luncheon hostess, and on December 7 a bazaar will be held in the club room, 4302 South Western avenue.

Travel Club. Despite lowering weather, the Los Angeles Travel Club had a delightful annual bazaar Monday at the Northern Branch Monday with Miss Dorothy Macerot as guide. It was supplemented by a luncheon and the history and government of France by Mrs. G. C. Lindsay, Mrs. George Morris and Mrs. Ellen French Aldrich.

At noon the morning music section joined Mrs. May West Hoffman in her apartment for a luncheon prepared by Mrs. Grace Nicholson, president, and Mrs. W. C. Finch, secretary, after which the board and business meetings of the club were held.

Musical program prepared by Mrs. E. H. Heston, fine arts chairman, will be followed by a pilgrim tableau under the auspices of Mrs. E. C. Hargrett, chairman of the drama section.

On November 29 a bazaar, under the auspices of Mrs. Chester Smith, will be held for the benefit of the club treasury.

P.T.A. Tomorrow the children of the schools are asked to bring food and clothing, especially garments that are warm, as donations to the needy ones of the schools in the P.T.A. drive, which for the first time is authorized by the superintendent, Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey.

Donations left at any of the schools will be taken care of and trucks are needed for Tuesday and Wednesday for the distribution of these supplies. Telephone Mrs. W. A. Miller, Hollywood 1348.

Mrs. Claudia Jensen is chairman of this Thanksgiving committee appointed by Mrs. D. Noble and all the associations are co-operating.

Down and Out Club. After the State board meeting of the C.F.W.C. tomorrow at the Broadway Department Store, eighth floor, there will be a meeting of the Down and Out Club, a State organization composed of past officers of the federation. Mrs. Annie Little Barry is president and has issued the call.

Republican Study Club. At an executive board meeting of the Republican Study Club Friday in the county central headquarters office, with Mrs. Florence Collins Porter presiding, action was taken to reorganize the club and enlarge the scope of its activities and studies.

On Tuesday the 26th inst., there will be a meeting of the club at the Union League Building, third and fifth floors, when officers will be elected, committees appointed and by-laws considered. Republican women are invited to be present and unite in the forward work of the club. It is confidently expected that many young women who are busy in the day time in clerical or industrial positions will identify themselves with the club now that there are to be no more meetings and a course of study planned, with possible sections to suit the needs of the various groups.

Practical politics will be taken up, inviting speakers will be heard and even so early as this tentative plans made for the next campaign, municipal, State and national.

Down and Out Club, permanent and attractive, will be secured for the club, possibly at the Union League Building, where committee and smaller conferences may be held.

Joint Meeting. In the Eboli clubhouse tomorrow there will be a joint meeting of the Los Angeles and southern districts, Federation of Women's Clubs at 11 a.m.

The afternoon speakers are to be Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, speaking for the general federation; Mrs. Aaron Schloss for the State; Mrs. Modesta Mortenson for the San Joaquin district; Mrs. A. W. Wohlford for the southern district and Mrs. Frank Heston speaking upon "Americanization."

The council of presidents of the Los Angeles district will meet at the Santa Monica Bay Women's clubhouse December 10, when the monthly district board meeting will precede the council.

FEDERATION HEADS TO TALK TOMORROW. Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and Miss Jane Humphrey of this city, president of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women, will be the speakers for the federation evening planned by the Business Women's Civic Club for tomorrow in the rose room in the Investment Building. Mrs. Schloss will be introduced by the president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley, Dallas, Tex., now located here, spoke of her work in community affairs before and after the signing of the armistice. She was followed by Miss Helen Freeman of New York City, who spoke of the probable acquisition of the community center and park in Hollywood. Miss Freeman will be Friedella in the Thanksgiving pageant.

The afternoon program was a lecture on "The Bible and World Events," by Miss M. Winifred Rouse, preceded by the lecture, Miss Ruth Bullard, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Bernard Brown, gave the following numbers: "Romance," Mrs. H. H. A. Beach; "Orientele," Cesar Sul, and "Elizantz," Popper-Hall.

GLENDALE'S TUESDAY CLUB SOON TO BUILD. Club building is the subject for conversation of the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, for at least a new clubhouse is planned for an early date. The club owns two valuable lots on Brand Boulevard. This year's work is progressing well and already fifty-five new members have brought the membership to 350.

For the benefit of the building fund the club will give a bazaar at the Masonic Hall at Colorado street and Brand Boulevard, December 2. Chairmen of departments who will have charge of the different booths are: Mrs. Charles Marlene, Mrs. J. W. Boeserman, Mrs. E. D. Yard, Mrs. J. T. Crampton, Mrs. A. M. Williams, Mrs. Frank C. Ayer, Mrs. O. O. Clark, Mrs. Walter Jones and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair.

Mrs. Charles H. Temple is in charge of the general arrangements of this affair, which is promising success in both a social and a financial way.

GAIN ADMISSION BY BRINGING STOCKINGS. Five hundred pairs of stockings for the poor kiddies of Los Angeles is the goal which the Philanthropy and Civic Club has set for itself for Thanksgiving music to be given Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Elks' Clubhouse. A general invitation is extended to members of other clubs, the price of admission being one or more pairs of new stockings. Members are urged to make luncheon reservations before 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The all-star program includes vocal numbers by Mrs. Sophie Winfield, lyric soprano, who will make her first appearance in Los Angeles on Tuesday; Anton Dahl, former court pianist of the late Cesar of Russia, who will appear in court costumes, and Miss Helen Morgan, a well-known local pianist. The program will be followed by tea.

In her call for the Thanksgiving spirit Mrs. Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith says the war has left 2,000,000 people homeless, 16,000,000 empty cradles, countless oppressed and humiliated citizens, and a mortgaged future for every nation concerned; still we must believe that readjustment of world issues is coming. She declares it to be every one's duty to think much and speak little these days except along thoughtful, conservative lines. "Let us," she says, "hold fast to our faith in our country's ideals and understand that true democracy is based not upon the rights but upon the duties of man."

SANTA MONICA CLUB TO HOLD LUNCHEONS. Great preparations are being made for the monthly luncheons inaugurated by Mrs. F. J. Wagner, president of the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club. She has divided the board of directors alphabetically into groups of four to assume charge of each luncheon.

Prominent men and women will speak on current subjects. Strangers and tourists will be given a special welcome. The committee for the first luncheon, to be held Monday, December 4, will be Mrs. F. J. Wagner, Mrs. Mae Armstrong, Mrs. R. N. Berkeley and Mrs. W. H. Boughton. On December 10 the president's council of the district will be held in the clubhouse, preceded by a Federation board meeting at 10 a.m. Luncheon will be served at noon. The afternoon will be given over to a program of speeches by members of the district board.

The child welfare section is planning a baby show for December 8 and 9. This section has been a wonderful channel for good in the club, and many mothers are grateful for timely help and suggestions given by the chairman, Mrs. William Matern, May McVeety, attendant Red Cross nurse, and Dr. Frank Wagner.

MEMBERS TO RECOUNT EARNING OF DOLLARS. An "Earn a Dollar" campaign is interesting the members of the South Side Eboli Club at present. On December 14 a meeting will be held when the members will tell how they earned their dollars for the clubhouse furnishing fund. Already shoe-shining at so much per garage parking, not to mention the odd stunts of baking, candy making and sewing are vigorously advertised.

The club is also making elaborate preparations for a carnival to be held on December 11 in the Knights of Pythias Hall at Fifty-fifth street and Central avenue, for the same benefit.

Last Thursday a Thanksgiving program was given. There were readings by Dr. Laura Burnley and Mrs. C. L. Voss, songs by the McKinley Avenue School Boys' Glee Club and a Thanksgiving living picture, "John and Friedella," to a musical accompaniment. "We Thank Thee Lord," written by Marian Tracy Whiting, who arranged the pictures, Mrs. A. E. Pulling, former president of the club, surprised the members after the regular meeting by serving refreshments in honor of the birthday of her small son and reading a letter which was supposed to have been written by the year-old child.

The ramblers of the club visited the factory and the Los Angeles Gas Company plant Friday. On Tuesday the drama section will meet at 1:30 p.m. and the book and conversation section at 5 p.m. with Mrs. Whiting as director.

WIVES ONLY MAY VOTE. Failure to Repeal Peculiar Law Disfranchises Many Marylanders. Many wives will vote in Baltimore whose husbands will be barred from that privilege. This situation is due to the strictly party vote at Annapolis by which the Democrats defeated the oft-proposed repeal of the "declaration of intent and affidavit of removal law."

During the war there was an enormous shifting of population due to what looked for the time at least like better opportunities than those to be found at home. Employment agencies offered such alluring invitations, usually accompanied by railroad transportation, that men went to other States without the slightest doubt that the door to full citizenship would be wide open upon their return. Some regarded a change in the law urgent as an after-war measure, and still more urgent as an emergency in view of woman suffrage.

The fact that the Democrats killed the measure by a strictly party line-up has caused some resentment that is likely to be expressed by the disfranchised Marylanders when they do get back on the books after the formal steps that are required and the year's delay. Wives may even show their resentment now when they see hubby turned away from the registration booth.—[Baltimore News.]

GETS METROPOLITAN.
Tell Tale of Country.
Growing Over Regions.
Brain Gives Way
Infusions.
HASKIN.
Nov. 16.—A picture rapidly changing. different from what it was ago, and even a quarcentury ago, is drawn by Bureau as it put forth of the recent decennial thing in this
of the city populain the country; and the city, which fourth a good of the facts revealed, of interest and in-
and glibly explain the details. As a matter, one knows just what character of our population is.
The reactionaries and mosaics generally treat this movement as a proof of the declining moral of the nation. Nobody wants to stay on the farm and do a hard day's work. They all think they have to go to the movies every night and wear a stiff collar and work only six hours a day. It's disgusting! (The author of this outburst often works one hour a week clipping coupons off bonds.)
The farmers, on the other hand, while they paint an equally alarming picture of this national migration, say it is all the fault of our economic system, and that these young fellows are leaving the farms because they can't make a living there.
The farmers are right in their contention. You can easily prove that for yourself by going into the country districts anywhere and talking to the people. It is very doubtful whether any more boys leave the farms nowadays for the cities, out of a deliberate preference for urban life, than have always done so. Here and there is a boy born in the country whose great usefulness and happiness are naturally found in the country, and he usually gets there. But if there is one thing certain about country people, especially men, it is that they like the country. They like the freedom, the old clothes, the outdoor life, the animals. They do not have to work as hard as city folk, despite the popular belief to the contrary. They work hard in harvest time, but in January they go coun-trolling.

WHY THEY LEAVE.
Why, then, do so many country boys go to the cities? Chiefly because there is no other place for them to go. Go into any old, settled farming district, such as Eastern Maryland. Talk to a farmer who has four boys. Three of them, he will tell you, are going away. The fourth boy will stay and inherit the old homestead. Why don't the others go? For several reasons. In the first place, the good farms are not for sale, and they don't want the poor ones. In the second place, to buy unimproved land and put it under cultivation takes more capital than they can command.
So the boys go to New York or to Philadelphia and become automobile mechanics or electricians, or else they go West in search of land.
But going West is getting to be a poor expedient. The greater part of its arable lands are as crowded as those of the East. Of its public lands little is left but desert. Just as the East has its swamps and cutovers which might be made into farms, so the West has its irrigable deserts. But in both cases it will take the strong hand of government to make these lands available.
NO MYSTERY.
There is no mystery in this so-called movement of the country population to the cities, nor does it represent any great change in the feeling or viewpoint of the people, or any new restlessness. The simple fact is that there are just so many farms in the United States. Every one of them that yield a living for hard work is being tilled, and a good many that will not yield a living in the long run are being tilled. The area of cultivation is being extended slowly, which is the only way it can be extended by men working singly, with little capital and upon the least desirable land in the country.
It is true that the population is increasing faster than the food supply is adequate. It's high price is due almost wholly to the way it is distributed.

The movement from the country to the cities will go on steadily and for a long time. It is inevitable in a nation which is changing from an agricultural basis to a commercial and manufacturing one. But the farms will always be tilled, and as soon as the government gets down to the necessary work of creating more farms, those will be tilled, too.
WOMEN.
Many fashionable women in Paris recently offered their services to end a strike of workmen in that city.
Father and daughter are the two partners in the law firm of Robinson & Robinson, of Fayetteville, N. C.
The largest translation bureau in the city of Mexico is owned and managed by a woman, Miss Estrella Gudoy.
With the aid of her husband and a hand sewing machine, Mrs. John
A. Rawlins, of New Orleans, put up 1400 pairs of preserves in two months last summer.
Topeka has five women taxi drivers.
Miss Margaret V. Landmann, of Prospect Plains, N. J., has met with marked success in the operation of an experimental seed farm.

More than sixteen municipal transporting undertakings throughout the United Kingdom employ women drivers, Glasgow having 330 of them.
Women of the harem of the Bagdad sheiks are occasionally permitted to view American motion pictures, which must be strictly censored, all love scenes being entirely eliminated.
No woman has entered the convent of St. Catherine, on Mt. Sinai, for more than 1400 years.
New York City has a splendid "bird hospital," where two women specialists treat influenza, pneumonia, broken legs, crushed wings and all other ills and injuries of the feathered folk. The hospital has several floors and many wards and it is said that pay patients and charity cases receive the same careful treatment.
Since the French sugar ration was increased, and restaurants have resumed serving, it Paris women are converting their sugar boxes into powder puff cases. The carrying of sugar in little gold boxes was a fashionable war fad. The new use for the boxes is said to have originated with a Rue de la Paix jeweler who saw in the rising sugar market a decline in the demand for his wares.
A woman's invention to save gas at the gas range makes the weight of pot or kettle on the burner throw open a valve which permits the gas to burn full force, while with the removal of that weight the valve closes to a point where it cuts off all the gas except an amount barely sufficient to support a pilot light.
Mrs. Sarah Merte of Enid, Okla., who recently celebrated her ninetyeighth birthday by attending a ladies' aid meeting, where she was the guest of honor, entertained her friends by singing an old church hymn she had learned eighty years ago when a girl in Pennsylvania.
Her voice was remarkably clear and sweet and when she had finished her singers were in tears.
Mrs. May Andrew Hayes of Houston, Tex., known overseas as the "Rice Queen," began her business career when she was 14, selling goods down in the rice country.
Later she sold rice and equine mechanical engineering, eventually going into the business of growing and milling the grain. Mrs. Hayes has built fifteen mills in America and several in foreign countries.
Why girls go to college is revealed by statistics dealing with the after-careers of Harvard graduates. Of 2055 living alumni 15 per cent are holding paid positions, 30 per cent have married and only 12 per cent are neither married nor of work. As to the kind of occupation preferred, teaching, once the favorite pursuit of college bred women, has lost caste. Since 1910 the percentage of graduates of Harvard engaged in teaching has dropped from 45 to 37. The figures show that girls go to college for serious purposes; that higher education for them is something for practical use as much as for ornament, and that considerably more than half of all the graduates of this college are self-supporting.

Census Taking a Gigantic Job.
The 116,000,000 cards needed to record the population of the United States in the new census made a stack more than ten miles high.
Without machinery it would be almost impossible to manage a census nowadays. It took seven years to complete and publish the census of 1890, and nine years to complete the census of 1910. By means of electrical mechanism which punches something like 4,000,000 cards a day, the cards are now sorted and tabulated in weeks instead of years. The device also saves expense and eliminates error.—(Indianapolis News.)

QUESTION BOX IN JAPAN.
Japanese newspapers are called upon to answer a variety of questions daily, and it is a lawyer,
The Yomiuri, who answers the following, recently:
"Last month I married a certain man, but he has now divorced me.
His unreasonable excuse is that my eyebrows are a pale color and that I must therefore be a leper. Can I sue him for the damage he is causing to my reputation?"
"A SUBSCRIBER."
The answer was: "Yes, you can sue him for the damage he is causing, as he cannot use a pale-colored eyebrow as a cause for divorce."
More of a poser was submitted for the wisdom of the Yomiuri in the following: "I am a woman of 18 years. I was born with a round face and my friends make fun of it. I Please tell me some way that I can change the shape of my face, for the persecution to which I am subjected is more than I can bear."
"A SUBSCRIBER."
The editor deserves credit both for his quick and witty reply to his reader's question: "I am very sorry, but I do not know of anybody who can change the shape of your face. However, be encouraged, full-faced lady, as you are the personification of the health of humanity."—(Japan Advertiser.)

Deo Los Angeles goes buying

Well, here it is at last—so you can quit holding your breath! On Monday you can all go trotting down to Jack Lane's tenth floor, Brack Shops and deck yourselves out in any number of fetching hats—for the extremely low prices of $1.50, $1.00 and $1.25! You who have attended the affairs of Jack Lane's before don't have to be told that you will get wonderful values—why, some of these hats are valued as high as $45 and $50! You can buy a street hat, sports hat and an evening hat, too, and yet your pocket book will hardly feel the strain!

Reversible evening coats are delightfully convenient! ## HE "KENNED A WY," DID BARKER

Scotch Acumen Finally Won for Goldwyn Director.

His First Play and Early Stage Career.

Enriching Realism in His "Buntz" Production.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"If I had a son, I would make him like me," he said, "and I would make him like me." This was the first line of the play "Buntz," which was the first play that Reginald Barker wrote. It was a play about a man who was a clown, and it was a play that was very successful. Barker was a man who was very successful in the theater, and he was a man who was very successful in the theater. He was a man who was very successful in the theater, and he was a man who was very successful in the theater.

PAGEANT IN HOLLYWOOD.

The Hollywood Thanksgiving pageant to be given Saturday on the Community Arts Alliance property by the Hollywood Woman's Club is taking final shape under the direction of Hedwiga Reicher, the noted stage star. Rehearsals held in the canyon have proved that everyone in the community is manifesting the keenest interest. A body of Boy Scouts are working daily to clean up the grounds for the occasion, and Rudolph Byrck, technical and scenic director of the Lasky studios, in charge of the setting for the pageant, has arranged many unique features. Elizabeth Waggoner, who designed the costumes, is now completing them. With the picturesque story and setting, the costume design allows a splendid chance for original ideas, and Miss Waggoner has studied each historical detail to make the ensemble. Considerable interest is manifested in the pageant book which, besides giving a scenario of the production, will also have the names of the people who have made it possible to produce the spectacle in Hollywood.

BEFORE ARTS SOCIETY.

Clayton Hamilton, authority on the drama, now in the editorial department of the Goldwyn studio, will speak Friday before the University Fine Arts Society of San Francisco.

But She's an Irish Lass Just the Same.

Colleen Moore on Coney Island to New Success.

King Vidor, a Sleigh and a Mud Puddle.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

Did you ever have the heart vamped out of you by a little Irish lass who might have stepped out of a play by Dion Boucicault, or a poem by Thomas O'Hara, or with whom Irish boys themselves might have fallen in love? I did. Of course, it wasn't intentional vamping on her part (it never is with a girl, anyway) and, of course (for the second time), she isn't just exactly Irish either, even if her name is Colleen Moore. No more Irish, at least, than any other perfectly good Michiganese, or Wisconsinese. Because it is in one of those States that her (imaginary) self was born. I forget which.

James Neil at the Burbank. My salary was $250 a week and I furnished my own clothes. But Mr. Neil was very kind to me and gave me every chance he could. He couldn't help it because only starvation wages were paid actors at that time.

The young actor went to San Francisco and got $5 a week, afterward, in melodrama at a stock house. Then he came back here with Fred Butler at $18 a week, playing in support of various stars who appeared at the Grand Opera-house. So at 16 he was a full-fledged actor, playing all the old favorites. Afterward he went up and down the Coast with a repertoire company, and later went out with "Old Jed Frosty." He hardly ever got his salary, which was $20 per week.

Sometimes he'd get as much as $5 a week of it, and he never permitted himself to pay over $4.50 a week for his board and room, so he had a handsome balance of 10 cents remaining. The company got stranded, and woke up in Topeka, Kan., one morning with the manager gone and exactly $1 in the crowd of four.

He managed to get enough money from one of the bankers of the show to get to Kansas City, and there he became stage manager for Walker Whiteside, journeyed to New York, and became Henry Miller's stage director, afterward acting in like capacity with Robert Hilliard, Olga Nethersole and others.

There were a lot of amusing happenings in those old hard-luck days, though, relates Barker.

FIRST SUCCESS.

Barker's entrance into picture work was interesting. It was while he was playing in "The Great Divide" that he met John Ince, who began to talk about his brother Tom. "I afterward met Tom," said Mr. Barker, "thinking he might have a place for an actor, but he told me I ought to become a director, and he said he would make me an assistant to Raymond West."

"But I didn't want to run errands, so I told him I'd work for nothing for a while if he'd give me a chance to direct. I worked six weeks without salary. That thing began to open up, and I went to Mr. Ince and told him I thought I was ready for a salary, so we fixed it up between us. No, it wasn't anything like the amount I get now, but it was good for those times."

Mr. Barker made a number of pictures for Ince, including "The Typhoon," "The Wrath of the Gods," "The Bargain," the last two William S. Hart pictures, several with Frank Keenan and Mr. Rehan's first Italian picture. It was one of Keenan's pictures that made Charles Ray a star.

"We came near not choosing Ray because he hadn't had much experience," said Barker. "It lay between him and George Fisher, but we chose Ray."

Thanksgiving Time is Dining-Room Time

It is a matter of great pride and satisfaction to the housewife and hostess to have a dining-room so furnished that it fairly breathes hospitality and cordiality.

And this pride and satisfaction are especially emphasized at Thanksgiving time, when guests are to be invited in, and when there is such a supreme desire to make a good impression.

Although Thanksgiving day is almost upon us now, there is still time to supplement your dining-room furnishings by any needed new pieces.

And it may be a surprise to you to know that even though you want the modest in price you can buy as economically at the "California" as at any furniture store anywhere. We are frequently told by people who have shopped around that they have found better values here than any place else.

And this ought to be the case, for we avail ourselves of every advantage in buying—our selections are all made with exceeding care and thought, and we sell on the very closest margin of profit which is consistent with sound business.

Our dining-room furniture selections are particularly comprehensive. We believe you will find more desirable offerings here than anywhere else. But we leave that conclusion to you. We ask you to come and make your own comparison of values. You are never urged to buy here.

Rare Time Pieces That Are Also Jewel Pieces

Just as words have often failed you to express the magnificence of some rare creation, so do words fail us to convey to you any adequate conception of the exquisite beauty of the new gem-set pendant wrist watches which have come to us from the master watch makers of Europe and America.

Here, for instance, is a most wonderful pendant watch in a finely modeled platinum case, closely set with diamonds and sapphires. One large pear-shaped and one rectangular-cut diamond are set in the case and three large pear-shaped diamonds are suspended as drops. One would scarcely know it was a watch at all.

The accompanying sketch shows our artist's conception of this rare masterpiece. It is Number 29126. The price is $5750.00.

The wrist watch sketched is also very wonderful. It is a "Waltham" in the new rectangular shape, in the very smart black and white effect—accomplished by the combination of diamonds and opals. It is Number 29097. The price is $1850.00.

Another very small platinum and diamond rectangular wrist watch, Number 29175, is priced at $1000.00. Another very smart cushion-shaped watch, Number 29121, is priced at $750.00. ## OF ART AND ARTISTS.

A Picture is Newstead.

What made my heart, at Newstead, fullest swell?

'Twas not the thought of Byron, of his cry

Stormily sweet, his Titan agony: It was the sight of that Lord Arundel

Who struck, in heat, the child he loved so well.

And the child's reason sickened and did die

Painted (he willed it) in the gallery

They hang; the picture doth the story tell.

Behold the stern, mailed father, clasp in hand

The little fair-haired son, with vacant gaze,

Where no more lights of sense or knowledge are!

Methinks the woe which made that father stern

Bearing his dumb remorse to future days

Was worse than Byron's woe more tragic far.

A Good Old Time New York Store Sale

—And this is a plain unvarnished advertisement. Its aim is to give nothing but plain straightforward statements to the women of Los Angeles about a very great sale. We never tried to make a sale go ahead on any other principle but the good old-fashioned one of having on sale the styles and quality that women wanted and with prices just a little bit lower than are to be found elsewhere.

—And in order to emphasize that we are sincere in this sale we desire to say that when we put reduced prices on sales tickets in this store we are always glad to have the reliableness of the figures put to actual tests.

—Is it not worth a great deal to you to feel certain that everything you see here in this sale can be relied upon?

—In the face of these facts if you have any kind of a Suit, Coat, or Dress need wouldn't it be a pretty good idea to see for yourself how much more your money will buy than you expected? Remember it means something extra too when you buy New York Store garments.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Date:
The brightest of hues in millinery have, in a measure, superseded black. The white which is becoming vogue to wear next the face may find her appearance marvellously improved.

The French drap veil which owes quite as much to the manner of putting on as to the style of the veil itself. The use of metallic thread, applied judiciously to gloves, wraps and millinery. Sometimes this is combined with definite color in metallic cloths—the tint appearing as an under-tone to the shimmering surface.

Children's Books for Christmas:
When all the other gifts have been their innings, books of genuine interest will endure the holiday and throughout the entire year. This season there are many new books which are bound to hold the thoughts of little ones at the twilight story hour.

Bells at Christmas:
Gifts for those who keep the home. Imagine the joy of watching budding leaves and blossoms, when one may not be abroad to the many fancies enjoyed by the care-free! Such collections come neatly boxed and carded with an appropriate Christmas wish. Velvets and costume velvets at prices astonishingly low. The use of these materials in a fur in winter and millinery.

Christmas Greenery:
A breath of the wintry woods is already about in the Christmas decorations and the evergreen strands of garlands that decorate the store. Christmas greenery is thus attested early and each readiness is further testified by more inviting stocks at lower prices than have been seen for many years.

Strictly Tailored Girls:
The strictly tailored girl looks much as though she had but just alighted from her horse. Upon the street she wears the tailored suit, the stock and vest and gloves which she might wear on horseback. Even her coat and skirt are reminiscent of the equestrian. Of course, she does not wear the breeches of saddle wear, but the skirt is much as if it were a very slim and short that one looks more than once to be convinced that she is a skirt.

A Trilogy of Contrasts:
The matching set might well be the name for the latest and oddest of hats from Paris. No more unrelated features could be imagined than these combined in this millinery chef d'œuvre. Chinese shaping—the mandarin cap, perfect industrial collection, the Venetian masquerade veil—these contrast in this most recent French chapeau.

Singularly Tempting:
New packages and containers of garments are so singularly beautiful as to tempt the most fastidious who are seeking distinctive gifts. The packages are exquisite, of course, since the best are compounded by houses of world-fame. But were they not what they claim, the presentation of their beauty would be in itself a compliment to millinery at her dressing table.

On the Square:
Tiny packages of colored linen ready to hemstitch and broder are for sale in some of the local stores and shops. At several for a dollar, the dimly-lit girl may, by the use of them, make her own Christmas gifts.

Made Locally:
An adaptation of the Jersey blouse, so popular in Paris, is the creation by a Los Angeles girl. This blouse, of heavy jersey in either silk or wool—probably the latter—has no trimmings, unless one terms the smocking which is used to form the fitting at the waistline. This is done in some contrasting color. The effect is excellent and the shape thus obtained is such as to do away with all idea of bulk which might otherwise accrue, by the use of thick materials.

Both Popular:
The use of both brown and gray is so popular that many are combining them in single garments or are wedding them in costumes. For example, Adele appeared at tea at the Alexandria, recently, wearing a gray, divinely, suit with a brown hat, veil, gloves and pumps. Her hose were gray, since gray is an incident in her history. Her handbag was gray, as also was her choice. Alone, on the other hand, were downtown a dress of tobacco brown, gray shoes and hose, a hat of gray Russian squirrel, a squirrel choker and muff, with gray gloves and handbag.

Good Muffs:
Glady writes from Paris that the new muffs are so queer and irregular in shape that one must guess whether they are muffs or wraps. Especially is this true when the materials from which they are made match the costume. Such muffs are, in fact, more beauty addenda to the suit or frock than practical warmth givers.

An Autumn Plan:
One of the girls who makes a business of entertaining and being entertained from morning until night, tells me she has discovered a way of being always ready for occasions of various kinds and times. She states that in the morning wearing a trip suit frock underneath her coat dress of duvetyne. Thus she need only slip off the coat dress when she must attend to her other smart little function. Then she slips off her "duvetyne" dress—in the dressing-room she leaves it—and appears in the most dressy garment. She also makes use of veils to transform her ordinary wearing. A close face veil for one occasion, a throw veil for another and the all-over lace veil for still a third and each gives her ensemble a cache of its own.

At Van Nuys.
Of interest in the San Fernando Valley was the marriage of Miss Albin Tringali of Van Nuys and Charles A. Hess of this city, which was celebrated at the Church of St. Elizabeth at Van Nuys. Rev. E. M. Riga officiated. Mass was said after the ceremony. White chrysanthemums and potted plants adorned the church. The bride was given away by her brother, L. Tringali. She wore a white charade trimmed in pearls. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley and her shower bouquet was of bride roses. Miss Camilla Baruch was flower girl and was in white. Master S. Tringali was ring bearer. A breakfast followed at the Van Nuys Hotel for forty guests.

From Pittsburgh.

Out-of-Town Society.

PASADENA.
The first social affair of the season at the Pasadena Golf Club, formerly the Altadena Country Club, took place at the clubhouse Friday evening. It was a dinner-dance, attended by many members of the club.

Two noted theologians have joined the winter colony in Pasadena. Dr. William Bancroft Hill, professor of biblical literature at Vassar, and Mrs. Hill arrived this week and have taken a bungalow for the winter at the Vista del Arroyo. Mrs. Hill is a daughter of the late Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the St. Paul timber king who died a few years ago at his villa in Pasadena. F. E. Weyerhaeuser of Pasadena is Mrs. Hill's brother. Dr. Hill is the author of a number of religious works and is a trustee of Rutgers College, the American university in Cairo and other bodies.

The other distinguished theologian is Dr. Augustus A. Strong of Rochester and Syracuse, N. Y., who, with his charming wife, is at the Maryland for the season. Dr. Strong was for many years president of the Rochester Theological Seminary, Rochester, a post he resigned eight years ago. Dr. and Mrs. Strong spent this summer in Europe. They come to Pasadena every winter.

Many Pasadenans attended a reception at the high school Thursday night for Principal and Mrs. William F. Evans, who came here this fall from the Oakland schools. A feature of the program was a repetition by high school students of a Red Cross program they had given earlier in the day at their school assembly.

The marriage of Miss Christiana Ellingson and Oscar N. Groven of North Bend, Or., took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, at 1514 North Holiston avenue. Rev. B. P. Hoff of Los Angeles was the officiating clergyman. Miss Mildred Olson of Wesley avenue was maid of honor. Gerhard Groven, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Ida Randall of Merritt Drive entertained the Mothers of the Defenders of the Flag at a social session Wednesday afternoon at her home. Yesterday the unveiling of the memorial tablet to Pasadena's war force erected by the Mothers of the Defenders at Defenders' Park way, was unveiled.

Mrs. Coretta G. Robinson and Howard K. Merritt, both of San Diego, were married Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. V. Cowan, 1198 North Raymond avenue. Rev. Mr. Cowan is an old friend of the bridegroom.

Mrs. L. R. Thompson, 1818 East Mountain street, entertained the Urbane Club Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent at sewing for the Edna Elder settlement. Mrs. James Coleman was elected president of the club for the year; Mrs. E. J. Thorne, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Ida Schaefer, chairman of the work committee.

Young people of Pasadena and Sierra Madre interested in amateur theatricals have formed a club called the "Q." The first meeting was held this week at the home of Mrs. Wright. Mrs. Margaret Walsh is the president of the club; Walter Murphy, vice-president; Frank Wright, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Finer, secretary; Mrs. Walter Roadway, chairman of the play casting committee.

Miss Annie D. Clarke, 224 South Euclid avenue, entertained the local

Never before have we been privileged to offer such exquisite conceptions in jeweled, flexible bracelets. They include bracelets of all square-cut diamonds mounted in platinum—and also the following charming combinations of square cut gems—

- diamonds and sapphires
- diamonds and rubies
- diamonds and emeralds
- diamonds and onyx

The vogue of the jeweled bracelet is now at its height. The discriminating woman would keenly appreciate a Christmas gift of such scintillant beauty and high intrinsic value.

Priced at $500 to $1500

We cannot too strongly urge our patrons to make Christmas gifts selections right now. Holiday buying is already actually under way at this establishment—and despite the amplitude of our 1920 stock, we realize that our patrons who defer their shopping until the last days this season, will surely suffer disappointment.

OUR SHIPS ARRIVE!

H. Liebes & Co.'s fur ships are now in the home port after their annual tour to our chain of fur trading stations beyond the Arctic circle. The "Fox" arrived 14 days ago. The "Herman" made port last Monday.

Her log tells a thrilling story:

Storms and blizzards of unprecedented severity were experienced. The starving survivors of a shipwreck were rescued from Cape Prince of Wales.

One of the small boats was captured by an angry whale and the crew narrowly escaped drowning in the icy waters.

The ice pack pierced a hole in the bow and the crew managed the pumps for many hours while repairs were made.

A gallant but futile attempt was made to reach Banks Land and to deliver the last remaining member of the Stefansson ice drifting expedition.

All in the day's work of securing for you the finest furs that the world affords.

Jacoby Notes

"What about prices?" is a question heard on every hand. Here at Jacoby's answer this way—"Prices drop in price according to the manufacturers and the buyers will be immediately noted in our prices."

Many prices are already great deal lower, as the fact is this advertisement.

Laces and trimmings have been moved to the main floor in order that the buyers might have room to spread themselves out before Christmas.

Women who live out of town will be glad to know that NETTY LAKE, a clever woman in our bureau of personal service, who is going to give her special attention to the filling of mail orders. Just tell Netty Lake what you want and she'll see you get it.

EACH STAR TO HAVE GARDEN.

Picturesque Features in New Robertson-Cole Studio.

Grecian Motif in Exterior Architecture.

Great Film Plant Soon to be Opened.

A garden for every star—a Japanese garden for Sessue Hayakawa, an old-fashioned garden for Pauline Frederick, and the others designed to suit the bright special luminary—this will be the design of the new Robertson-Cole studio, when completed. The great picture plant on the corner of Gower and Microse streets, which has been under construction since last summer, is now informally opened within a few days.

Several of the Robertson-Cole centering in a mirror pool, which at the present time, are to move to the new plant for their next productions. Within the next two months, it is announced, every Robertson-Cole unit will be housed there, as well as a number of independent new organizations. Enough buildings have been finished to allow several units to start operating very shortly.

The new design of the studio will be along Grecian lines. On Gower street, where the frontage is about 1500 feet, the fifteen-foot wall, set off with classic pillars, will be broken in the center by a Greek colonnade. This entrance will lead into formal gardens, covering a space 175x200 feet. In the center will be a mirror pool, which at night will reflect semi-concealed lights upon the main executive building.

The executive building is U-shaped, built around a large portico, with a long flight of white stone steps leading up to it. A colonial stairway runs from the reception hall to the second floor of this building. Here are the executive offices, the exploitation department, a large modern theater for the screening of pictures, and a private dining-room and kitchen, which will be used by the executive staff.

On the lower floor, a corridor on the left leads to the telephone exchange, the purchasing department and the general accounting department, while corresponding on the right wing will be found the production department, the art and technical department, the employment bureau and the scenario and research departments.

These departments will work directly in connection with the office on each of the stages, where a studio representative will be stationed to attend to the requirements of the director.

THE STAGES. There will be eight enclosed stages with a floor space ninety-five feet wide, 175 feet long, and an overhead clearance of twenty-eight feet, which will afford ample room for settings of magnitude. Should necessity arise, requiring a greater space for interior settings, the stages are so constructed that sliding doors along their sides may be opened, thus making it possible to carry the setting over two stages.

A network of bridges, equipped with electrical connections at given points, permits overhead spotlights to be placed at such angles as to secure any lighting effect that is required. Beneath the floor of the stage is a large concrete tank that can be used for water-scenes or for scenes as require a stairway leading down from the level of the action that is being photographed. Each stage will have its own cutting room and projection room, which will be located in a separate building between the stages.

There will be no dressing-rooms on the stages proper, but following out the policy of keeping each company as an individual unit, a dressing-room building will stand directly in front of each of the stages. The upper floor of these dressing-room buildings will contain single dressing-rooms for the cast and the extra talent, while the lower floor will have rooms for offices and the star's suite at one end.

STAR SUITE. The star's suite will consist of a reception hall, a dressing room, a private bath and reception room. In this reception room, the star can receive guests, while the dressing room leads onto the stage or into the dressing-room building.

The star's suite will be furnished with every possible comfort and a private door will lead from the rooms into the picture-taking area. Here the star can rest between scenes, and

Beneath the floor of the stage is a large concrete tank that can be used for water-scenes or for scenes as require a stairway leading down from the level of the action that is being photographed. Each stage will have its own cutting room and projection room, which will be located in a separate building between the stages.

There will be no dressing-rooms on the stages proper, but following out the policy of keeping each company as an individual unit, a dressing-room building will stand directly in front of each of the stages. The upper floor of these dressing-room buildings will contain single dressing-rooms for the cast and the extra talent, while the lower floor will have rooms for offices and the star's suite at one end.

STAR SUITE. The star's suite will consist of a reception hall, a dressing room, a private bath and reception room. In this reception room, the star can receive guests, while the dressing room leads onto the stage or into the dressing-room building.

The star's suite will be furnished with every possible comfort and a private door will lead from the rooms into the picture-taking area. Here the star can rest between scenes, and well as a number of independent new organizations. Enough buildings have been finished to allow several units to start operating very shortly.

The new design of the studio will be along Grecian lines. On Gower street, where the frontage is about 1500 feet, the fifteen-foot wall, set off with classic pillars, will be broken in the center by a Greek colonnade. This entrance will lead into formal gardens, covering a space 175x200 feet. In the center will be a mirror pool, which at night will reflect semi-concealed lights upon the main executive building.

The executive building is U-shaped, built around a large portico, with a long flight of white stone steps leading up to it. A colonial stairway runs from the reception hall to the second floor of this building. Here are the executive offices, the exploitation department, a large modern theater for the screening of pictures, and a private dining-room and kitchen, which will be used by the executive staff.

On the lower floor, a corridor on the left leads to the telephone exchange, the purchasing department and the general accounting department, while corresponding on the right wing will be found the production department, the art and technical department, the employment bureau and the scenario and research departments.

These departments will work directly in connection with the office on each of the stages, where a studio representative will be stationed to attend to the requirements of the director.

EGAN PUPILS IN "SALOME"

"Salome," Oscar Wilde's tragedy, which gained particular celebrity in music-dramatic form, is to be played in the spoken dramatic version next Wednesday evening at the Little Theater. A group of Egan's private pupils are to give the performance. Two other plays will be on the program. The cast announced includes Paul Duane as Herod, Dorothy Levey as Herodias, Freda Burke as the slave and Henry Mitchell as the executioner. Isabel Foyr will assume the role of Salome, which is attractively characterized by the famous Dance of the Seven Veils.

OPERA CHANCES ARE GOOD HERE.

Metropolitan Basso Thinks We Should Have Company.

Points Out How Americans Prosper in Lyric Art.

Early Experiences in Musical Comedy Tours.

BY JEANNE REDMAN.

Dani Ruydael, basso from the Metropolitan, who is making a visit to Hollywood, is of the opinion that we should have permanent opera in Los Angeles. He is assured that there is a sufficiently large music public here to support one.

"I asked Henry Savage," he said, "why he did not have an opera company as a permanent institution in Chicago. His answer was that there was not a sufficiently large German population there, as, for example, there is at St. Louis."

"Isn't that terrible? Surely it is a reflection to admit that we must depend upon our German population for a chance," he continued. "We should give the American a better chance in our opera houses."

"Something has been accomplished in this way at the Metropolitan. They are to produce two German operas there this season—'Tristan and Isolde' and 'Die Walkure'—and as the public will not yet have German singers singing in German, some Americans singing in English are to have a chance."

"This is as it should be. But there are not many American singers who can sing German, even if the public wanted it."

Ruydael sang German opera roles in this country at the Metropolitan for eight years, and previously, abroad. His initiation into the field is amusing.

"I was an electrical engineer, from Cornell," he smiled. "One day I was walking along the street in Chicago when I ran into George Ade, a fraternity brother. He told me that he was about to attend a rehearsal of his comic opera, 'The Sultan of Sulu,' by the Savage Company."

"He asked me to go along, and urged me to let him write in a part for me. I accepted more as a lark than in earnest."

"The work was a success, and I was with the company for three years."

"The other day I was asked to the home of James McGee, manager for the 'Sulu' at La Grange Park. McGee was a chorus man in 'The Sultan of Sulu,' and at his home I met Franklin Parnum, who was also a chorus man in the same company."

"After 'The Sultan' Savage put me with Raymond Hitchcock in 'The Yankee Consul,' with which I stayed for three years. It was with that company that I made my first acquaintance with the West. After that show closed I began to think of singing in Berlin. Several members of the troupe had gone to Berlin to study. I went too. I studied with Franz Emmert, there. Then I went to Vienna and sang in German opera."

"I had learned twelve opera roles in the eighteen months in Berlin, and while in Bohemia I learned forty. Twenty-eight in seven months."

"This last announcement sounded quite amazing, so I remarked that the singer must be something of a musician."

"No, I'm not," he said. "None of us is very much of a musician. Of course, we have to have a strong musical sense, but hardly any of the Metropolitan singers are well up on music."

"I know only a few who are, and those are all Czechoslovakians, Durian and Slezak are musicians, but they are about all."

"I returned to this country in 1910 and went to the Metropolitan, where I remained until I went to Berlin. I shall probably return there when German opera singers are again in vogue. I want to stay here for a year or so. I may sing while there, and I shall certainly teach a little. Some of my New York pupils have followed me here."

"FIXED BY GEORGE." Superior Gives Us Lyrics and Music in Wild Comedy.

In "Fixed by George," showing at the Superior, Leo Moran, as a nerve specialist whose patients are the most attractive women in town and whom he misleads through the statement that he is unmarried, involves eight people in such a complicated melange that his one and only hope of saving his life and reputation is to call on George (Eddie Lyons) who certainly does "fix" things for him.

George is one of those stars who likes to take the clock apart so that you can call in a jeweler the next morning, or tinker with the piano so that the base cliff will not emit any sounds. The old farcical situation of bringing a number of opposing actions together and keeping them together against their will is used by Edgar Franklin, author of the story, and done to the terrible embodiment when the doctor and his loveliest patient, George, and the doctor's wife, the patient's true father, her immensely jealous fiancé, and even George's indignant young spouse, all meet at the same time in a wild suburban café, the situations are so adroitly handled that nothing is lost in the confusion except lots of laughter.

THE WHIRL OF MIRTH.
Dizzy Mixture of Song and Dance at New Pantages.
Willard Jaffe, well-known comedian, comes to the New Pantages for the week starting with tomorrow's matinee, bringing a team mate also well known in vaudeville, Roy Reaves, and a sextette of metropolitan beauties in "The Whirl of Mirth," a mixture of comedy and song with dance trimmings.
Clemens-Belling, two famous European clowns, bring with them a white mule, a Chinese donkey and other animal comedians. Harry Faber and Ursa McGowan build their comedy on "The Compass," while Kenny, Mason and School present comedy on skates. Juliette Dika, French light opera star, will be heard in classic and popular repertoire.
H. E. Warner is promised in his latest screen success, "Felix O'Day," from F. Hopkinson Smith's novel, James D. Hampton production directed by Robert Thornby. Paisley Noon and Julianne Johnston, who deserted the stage for the studio about a year ago will return to vaudeville. Their act, "The Aristocracy of the Feet," is programmed as a special added feature.
Norma Talmadge, in her very latest picture, "The Branded Woman," will be the featured attraction at the Garrick for another seven days, starting today.
"The Branded Woman" has been declared by press and public to be the most dramatic vehicle Miss Talmadge has ever had and to afford her ample opportunity to display her histrionic talents. The story concerns a young girl who is marked by the sins of her mother, and who flees to a foreign land to escape the sting of shame. How she becomes the wife of a diplomat, only to have her past all but wreck her happiness, forms a theme that supplies an abundance of thrills and heart throbs.
Gloria Swanson establishes a new adage—that while clothes may make the woman they have nothing whatever to do with making the actress. Elliot Dexter and Monte Blue are also in the cast.
One of the particularly enjoyable features of the program is the unusual musical setting which has been arranged for the De Mille picture, and which is finely interpreted by the Rialto orchestra under the direction of Hermann Feldt. Oliver Wallace's new song, "Lunar Moon," is winning popular favor.
ARBuckle's PLANS.
Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Paramount comedy star, will return from the East, December 1, to begin work on his next picture to be directed by Joseph Henabery, entitled "Three Miles Out." The picture will be an adaptation from the story by Frank Condon. At the present time Fatty is in New York on a vacation, having left Los Angeles shortly after completing "The Dollar a Year Man," his latest starring vehicle for Paramount release.

REAL BOY STORY.
Clune's Will Offer "The Soul of Youth" This Week.
Lewis Sargent, the boy who made "Huckleberry Finn" live on the screen for millions of picture lovers, plays the boy role in "The Soul of Youth," which will be Clune's Broadway attraction beginning today.
The story is an original one by Julia Crawford Ives. Lewis Sargent, since his enviable success in the title role of Mark Twain's immortal classic, is perhaps the best known and likable boy actor of today. In this picture young Sargent has a role altogether different in type from that of his initial screen appearance, but he is said to bring to the part all the delightful boy qualities which he showed so well in the Mark Twain story.
There is no dearth of love interest in "The Soul of Youth," although the story is typically juvenile. The picture is filled with many comedy situations and is a drama that will play upon the heart strings, too. It will appeal to young and old alike. Particular interest attaches to the fact that Judge Ben Lindsey, the noted juvenile jurist, participates in several scenes in the picture.

RIALTO STILL KEEPS TO THE DE MILLE PLAY.
"Something to Think About" is still running in at the Rialto. This Paramount production of Cecil De Mille begins its third week today. The reason is evident. Mr. De Mille has given to the screen a drama which will live in the minds and hearts of the spectators as a story full of thought.
Gloria Swanson establishes a new adage—that while clothes may make the woman they have nothing whatever to do with making the actress. Elliot Dexter and Monte Blue are also in the cast.
One of the particularly enjoyable features of the program is the unusual musical setting which has been arranged for the De Mille picture, and which is finely interpreted by the Rialto orchestra under the direction of Hermann Feldt. Oliver Wallace's new song, "Lunar Moon," is winning popular favor.

THE BRANDED WOMAN REMAINS AT GARRICK.
Norma Talmadge, in her very latest picture, "The Branded Woman," will be the featured attraction at the Garrick for another seven days, starting today.

EILEEN PERCY STARS AT THE HIPPODROME.
"Beware of the Bride," a film comedy drama with Eileen Percy in the leading role, is to show at the Hippodrome beginning today.
Verna Mercereau and Company top the vaudeville bill in "Reincarnation," a dance drama of past and present. Billy Barlow, the jovial chap, gives songs and stories. Francis Owen and company present a comedy sketch, "Grandpa." Maude Allen as a singer of American songs will prove a delight to lovers of good singing and "Memento Musical" introduces two clever young girls at the violin and harp.

HOBBART BOSWORTH AT WALKER THEATER.
Hobart Bosworth, in "His Own Law," is to be the attraction at the Walker for the week beginning today.
"His Own Law" is a virile story of the friendship that exists between two strong men—a friendship that stands the test of time and trouble, sickness and storm, but which is put to the supreme trial when the love of a woman enters.
Bosworth has the role of McNeil, construction engineer. Assisting him are Roland Lee as Jean Baval, Jean Calhoun as the girl and little Mary Jane Irvine as the child.

"EARTHBOUND" AT THE ALHAMBRA.
"Earthbound," the filmization of Basil King's story, which recently had a run at Miller's Theater, will be shown again beginning today at the Alhambra. The theme of the picture is unusual as a delineation of the life after death. The story concerns a domestic tragedy, but is lifted out of the commonplace through the unique treatment.
The picture was directed by T. Hays Hunter, working under the supervision of the author. The principal roles are played by Wyndham Standing, Naomi Childers, Mahlon Hamilton, Flora Revell, Kate Lester and others.

SCRIPT WRITING COURSES.
The postponed opening of the season's second group of scenario-writing courses for beginners in the extension division, University of California, will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Court Room, Union League Building. William Gilmore Beyer, formerly of the editorial staff of Harper's magazine and of the scenario department of the American Film Company, is continuing as instructor. The first lecture of each course. It is announced, will be open to the public.

The Beauty of the Waltham Watch

OH, what a beautiful watch! How many times we have said that, or heard others say it, when confronted in the jeweler's shop-window or, upon his counter with the slim, golden beauty that has captured our admiration.

A beautiful watch has a strange power of fascination. Its beauty is alive. It speaks to us of Time. It measures for us Time's value and transition. When we buy one, it becomes immediately a part of our life. It goes everywhere with us. We depend on it. And if it fails us, we feel that "a friend" has played us false.

We do not buy a watch merely for its good looks. If that were so, we should not be really buying a watch but a watch case. So the beauty of our watch must go deeper than the outside. It must reach into every part, no matter how tiny. It must delve into and be the sum and substance of the whole "works"—the "movement" that ticks the seconds, day and night, for us.

BEAUTY is much more than appearance. A watch may look good—but is it good? That is what we are most interested in. We hear much to-day of "ultra" thin and "extra" that. The "ultra" beautiful, the "extra" thin, and we are apt to be confused as to what is the best value for our money.

We venture to say that there are hundreds of thousands of watches reposing in bureau drawers, or among discarded trinkets, that were once bought because of the "pretty," "cute," "cunning" or "smart" watch case wherein reposed the "works" that refused to keep time.

Of course, you should buy Beauty in your watch. But buy beauty on the outside and "beautiful" time-keeping on the inside.

The Waltham Watch can be bought in the most beautiful cases imaginable. True, you may not find Waltham Watches plentiful because they are the most desired, the most sought-after watches. From the tiny lady's watch, the works of which are not as large as a dime in circumference (the smallest "movement" made in America), to the generous sized railroad man's watch—the famous Waltham "Vanguard"—the Waltham is "wanted" by those who value time-keeping ability.

THE beautiful "works" of the Waltham Watch have won many honors and gold medals against all comers at the world's great expositions. It was the "works" of Waltham Watches that placed "America first in watchmaking." These Waltham "works" were the wonder and admiration of foreign watchmakers. They openly said so.

The name "Waltham" across the dial of the watch you buy is an American word that carries with it watchmaking leadership, watchmaking integrity, watchmaking dependableness. It means the best watch, for the price you pay, that it is possible to buy.

THE Waltham Watch represents nearly three-quarters of a century of watchmaking improvement.

In this series of advertisements the following Waltham Watches will be featured:

But NOW—

Monday Morning at 9 o'clock the GREATER Event Begins

OPENING SALE

In the New Sweldom Beautiful

FOUR COMPELLING FACTORS IN EXTRAORDINARY COMBINATION

Which Give to Sweldom's Opening Sale the Force of

DOMINANT VALUE ATTRACTIONS

First Factor—

THE LATENESS OF THE SEASON

With many thousands of dollars worth of exclusively new apparel, ordered especially for the opening of the new store, Sweldom is confronted with the problem of disposing of this enormous stock of fine merchandise in a fraction of the usual time allotted for the sale of an entire new stock of seasonable goods.

Second Factor—

THE OPENING OF THE NEW SWELDOM BEAUTIFUL

is an event that, independent of any other reason, calls for the giving of liberal concessions, as is customary at all such times; and Sweldom has gone far in its efforts to show its appreciation to its patrons for their patronage of the past year.

Third Factor—

THE GENERAL LOWERING OF THE MARKET

which has caused all apparel to de- scend in price; and Sweldom has taken this condition into full consid- eration in every price marked on the beautiful new garments presented to- morrow.

Fourth Factor—

SPECIAL CONCESSIONS MADE TO US BY MANU- FACTURERS

as a tribute upon the opening of our new home; and these concessions we are passing on to our patrons to swell the volume of their savings in every purchase.

The combination of all of these elements in the reduction of prices has resulted in the offering of almost unbelievable buying opportuni- ties at tomorrow's Opening Sale—opportunities that we are prone to believe have few equals in the history of merchandising, considering the entirely new stock of merchandise offered, consisting as it does of apparel that is EXCLUSIVELY the LATEST and MOST AD- MIRABLE the fashion world could produce up to the very day of the opening of the New Sweldom Beautiful.

To one and all—whether intending buyers or just interested observers, our cordial invitation is extended to be present tomorrow morning on this occasion that promises so much in enjoyment and advantage.

Why Be Skinny?

It's Easy to Be Plump, Popular and Attractive

It's easy to be plump, popular and attractive instead of being thin, angular and unattractive. Almost invariably, the trouble is due to weak nerves and consequent failure to assimilate your food. You may eat heartily, but owing to the lack of nervous energy and impoverished blood you don't get the benefit from the food you eat. All of this can be remedied very quickly by taking with each meal a few grains of Mentho-Laxone. This quickly stimulates the nervous system, enriches the blood and increases its oxygen content. The average thin, weak, nervous man or woman begins to look and feel better. Sleep, appetite, strength and endurance are improved. Skin becomes bright, and, unless afflicted with some organic complaint, there is no reason why, if you take Mentho-Laxone Phosphate regularly, you should not soon look and feel much better and many years younger. Carry this idea into a remedy for you. Buy Mentho-Laxone Phosphate for a three weeks' trial. Use as directed and if at the end of three weeks you aren't de- lighted to go back and get your money. Your druggist, a man you know, is un- doubtedly also a man of advertisement.

Says Time to Make

Mentho-Laxone Syrup

Anyone Can Make a Full Flat of Laxation. Cures Cough and Cough Medicines Cheaply at Home First! Does Relieve.

Everybody is subject to colds and coughs at this season. Be prepared! Have on hand a full pint of Mentho-Laxone syrup that checks and aborts colds, relieves coughing and gradually brings perma- nent relief. The full and best benefits are derived if you begin taking it at the very outset of a cold or cough—because you can check or abort the cold—and save many hours of distress and perhaps ward off bronchitis, pneumonia, and other serious results of a neglected cold. Mentho-Laxone is pure, contains no opiates or narcotics. It is pleasant, penetrating, healing and curative beyond any preparation you can buy ready made. Full directions and guarantee are with every bottle of Mentho-Laxone. It will meet the needs of you or The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, will refund your money. Hundreds of thousands of bottles of Mentho-Laxone have been sold and out- over 50 people have wanted their money back. That tells how good it is. Keep bottles and test year. Why? Because it's best and cheapest.—(Advertisement.)

EDITOR TURNS PHILOSOPHER.

Robert Cortes Holliday, former editor of The Bookman, in his latest book, "Men and Books and Cities," looks on life and finds it good.

NEW BOOKS AND CITIES. By Robert Cortes Holliday. Dutton Company, New York. This is a happy-go-lucky sort of a book. It is, in fact, the chronicle of a whimsical philosopher who looks upon life and finds it good. The style is rambling and easy, half way, half serious, entirely wholesome and often decidedly humorous with a strongly autobiographical flavor. The material appeared first in The Bookman under the caption, "Murray Hill on His Travels."

We are told in the beginning that Murray Hill had grown stale from too much attention to the details involved in his duties as editor of The Bookman, a relation that has since been changed to that of contributing editor, this change being brought about at Mr. Holliday's own suggestion, it being his purpose to devote his time in the future wholly to the writing of books, rather than to the reading of books and near-books of others.

Mr. Holliday has at present a fair and formidable shelf of books to his credit—we must be distinctly understood to use the word "formidable" in relation to numbers—for the books are all exceedingly readable. They include the following list: "Broome Street Straws," "Walking Stick Papers," "Peeps at People," "Booth Turkington," "The Memoir to Joyce Kilmer," "Poems," and "Dance and Letters."

HIGHER PSYCHICAL DEVELOPMENT

(Yoga Philosophy.) An Outline of the Secret Hindu Teachings.

By HIRSHWAD CARRINGTON, Ph. D. Author of "The Psychic Powers," etc.

This is one of the most profoundly interesting books ever published. It carries the student into the very depths of the mind, and reveals the hidden forces of the body, and how to control them—never before published. Some of the most closely guarded "secrets" are herein divulged for the first time.

It deals chiefly with the method of attainment, and tells how to awaken the latent energies of the body, and how to control them. It contains many practical instructions for projecting the Astral Body and much other stimulating material.

FRENCH VERSES.

THE MODERN BOOK OF FRENCH VERSES. In English translation by Charles Francis Thompson, with introductions by various writers. Edited by Albert Boni & Company, New York.

This collection of French verse in English translation is invaluable for the English reader who is not sufficiently proficient in French to enjoy reading the poetry of that nation in the original. Mr. Boni has gone far afield in search of the translations, using those by well-known English and American authors wherever such translations exist. Thus translations appear by H. W. Longfellow, A. C. Swinburne, Andrew Lang, and others.

As for the French poets considered, all of note are included from Guillaume de Poitiers of the eleventh century to Georges Duhamel and Jules Romains. There is much that is lovely and inspiring in this collection and all lovers of poetry will appreciate what a labor of love its compilation has been.

Selecting almost at random we run across these stanzas from W. J. Robertson's translation of "My Wishes," by Emile Zola:

A hidden nest among the willows,
In such an enchanted wood their trunks
A nest that all companions lack
A nest that all companions lack

My wish would be—where victory ends
And the gray rock towers up to heaven
A book of peace whose breathes at even
A book of peace whose breathes at even

THE BOOKMAN.

The Bookman for November will be found an exhilarating adventure into the land of books and authors. It opens with an authorized interview with W. L. George on American literature, in which he says "he believes that we are if anything better than we are in our appreciation of the work of our novelists, that the main point about American literature is that it is pioneer literature. The landmarks of it are Frank Norris, Jack London and Theodore Dreiser. Norris presented the first sign of the modern pioneer, London was the romantic or emotional pioneer, and Dreiser the intellectual pioneer. It is impossible to judge American literature by English standards. Therefore, the first thing we want is a form criticism, a kind of introduction to the work of our novelists, and one-time managing editor of the Woman's Home Companion, writes on Charles Hanson Towne's 'The Contributor Who Calls,' and shows how the 'letter of introduction has become a very cheap and easy way of 'passing the buck.' John J. Gunther's article, 'James Branch Cabell: An Introduction,' is followed by George Haven Putnam's history of 'Consciousness' and 'The Battle of Manila Envelopes.' 'Murray Hill' (Robert Cortes Holliday) continues the account of his travels, touching on persons and places in his own inimitable way. Half a dozen other articles complete the number.

BOOK NOTES.

Thomas Nelson Page's, "Italy and the World War," which promises to be one of the early winter's most interesting books, will be published soon by Charles Scribner's Sons. The former United States Ambassador lifts the curtain on the important angle of the great struggle. The book, say the publishers, will cause some rejudging of historical opinion as regards Victor Emmanuel's country and its part in the war. The work includes the most authoritative description of Italy at the time of the great Piave battle, yet presented in English.

John Burroughs at Work.

At Wood-Chuck Lodge, near Roxbury in the Catskills, John Burroughs, whose "Accepting the Universe" has just been published by Houghton Mifflin Company, spends his summers and the early fall months, pottering about, as he would say, and gleaning new facts and impressions which grow into essays while he sits under the apple tree, or in his hay-barn study. He also tends his garden, takes a hand at road mending, designs a rustic cage for his pet cat, going to the woods with the men and selecting the loveliest posts and ash saplings of which it is fashioned, shoots and traps woodchucks, and abouts and abouts in the Catskills, John Burroughs, find their way up to "Wood-Chuck Lodge," November will probably find Mr. Burroughs in his home by the river, at West Park, N. Y., and in December he hopes to be in Southern California.

Good Books Still Popular.

Honi & Livertig report that the three best-selling titles in their "Modern Library" for the months of July and August, generally regarded as the time when people put their books in their hands for the summer, were Ludwig Lewysohn's "A Modern Book of Greek Verse," "The Complete Poems of Francis Thompson" and "The Way of Zen." This report would seem to confirm the old adage that the classics are the books that last. In America has gone to the demitasse bowl.

An Optimistic Philosopher.

Robert Cortes Holliday, Author of "Men and Books and Cities."

NEW THEORY OF PHILOSOPHY.

RECONSTRUCTION IN PHILOSOPHY. By John Dewey. Henry Holt & Co., New York.

This is a series of lectures recently delivered by their author at the Imperial University of Japan, in Tokyo. Prof. Dewey is an entirely new philosopher, and is known as postivist and pragmatist that the general nature of anything proceeding from his pen may be confidently predicted. But he here offers a new theory of the origin of philosophy, which, if accepted, will cover Plato, who believed that it began in wonder, with a new confusion and put "Shakespeare's Divine Philosophy" in his place with a startling thump.

Dewey's theory is that "under pretense of dealing with ultimate reality philosophy has really been an endeavor to rationally justify beliefs and dogmas of logical induction, long accepted on account of their emotional congeniality and social prestige." Because of its lack of intrinsic rationality it made a desperate dogmatic stand, and great parade of logical forms and show of elaborate terminology, hair-splitting logic and fictitious devotion to mere external forms of comprehension. It was a "show" of none of these things, which were the methods of the individual followers of the dogma, and not the dogma itself. This was especially necessary, as it stood in the way of Dewey's theory of the nature of philosophy, since dogmas have never worshipped the god of things as they are or have been on this mundane sphere, but directed their efforts solely to so educating men as to move them to make "things better," to more copies of the nine fall titles in the "Modern Library" will be announced shortly.

Dynamic Symmetry.

Thanking Jay Hambidge for his paper on "Dynamic Symmetry," the Architectural Record, Mr. Cecil Smith, L.L.D. (Hon. A.) director of the art division, Victoria and Albert Museum, concluded with the remark: "Mr. Hambidge's theory deserves the fullest consideration by the artists of this country." Mr. Hambidge's developed work is now ready for the public. It is called "Dynamic Symmetry," and is published by the Yale University Press, New Haven.

THE GREEK QUESTION.

CONSTANTINE I AND THE GREEK PEOPLE. By E. V. Rieu. The Century Company, New York.

This book is a graphic account of events which, through Entente misapprehension of Balkan problems, kept Greece for three years an unwilling neutral. As a correspondent, Mr. Hibben visited Venizelos and King Constantine impartially. He analyzes the motives of both the Entente and the Kaiser, and the effect in Greece of the Allied blunders in Gallipoli and of Entente indifference toward the fate of their ally, Serbia. Mr. Hibben maintains that Constantine always favored joining the Greek army to the Allied forces, and that only the refusal of the Allies to guarantee the future integrity of the Greek state at the conclusion of the war prevented union from the beginning. The state of the Allies to guarantee the future integrity of the Greek state at the conclusion of the war prevented union from the beginning. The state of the Allies to guarantee the future integrity of the Greek state at the conclusion of the war prevented union from the beginning.

the better sort, well told with plenty of fire and vim. And what novel Mr. Curwood's series do make: "The River's End," so swift of movement, so exciting, and above all so irresistible in the lure of its setting, made a green production long to be remembered, and it is a pity that "Silent Men" will probably make an other, though the scenes are not quite as spectacular as in its predecessor.

VERENA IN THE MIDST. By E. V. Lucas. George H. Doran Company, New York.

"A kind of story" is the ingenious subtitle with which Mr. Lucas launches his first book of fiction since "The Vermilion Box." The story is told entirely in letters. The romance centers around Verena Raby, temporarily an invalid, and the lovers, friends and others who seek to entertain, amuse or cheer her and who reveal themselves, their lives and Verena's own in their letters. Chief among them is Richard and Haven of "Vermilion Box" memory.

This is a book of whimsicality with a smile and a chuckle on every page. Aside from the story, the letters, all dated in the past year, give a very interesting picture of English life after the war, as it is seen by many different kinds of people. The Regular, or the Invalid's friend, Verena's young niece's contribution, is a gem of fake juvenile composition, irresistibly amusing.

Mr. Lucas's most recent book of essays, "Adventures and Ethical Asms," was published in September. He is at present contributing a weekly London letter to the Evening Post, Literary Supplement. He is associate editor of London Punch, and the author of many books of travel.

WHERE ANGELS FEAR TO TREAD.

By Edward Morgan Foster. Alfred A. Knopf & Co., New York.

An unusually clever story telling of four Britons, who rush in where angels fear to tread, determined to wrest from its Italian father a baby whose mother had been an English woman. The weakness of their position, the amug, self-righteousness of their standards, and the effect that the beauty and glamour of the world has upon them are told with rare insight. There are pathetic passages, for the baby dies as the result of their meddling, but the book is a whole in a sense that leaves the delightful flavor that a well-told tale laid in Italy so often has.

FOLLOW THE LITTLE FEATHERS.

By John Galsworthy. George H. Doran Company, New York.

A mystery story with an unexpected ending. It tells of a treasure chest prepared long ago as a present for Bonnie Prince Charlie, which had been safely buried so as to keep it out of the hands of the enemies of the Stuarts. How it is found at last is told with unusual cleverness, and the interest is enhanced by a love story that is developed quite as it should be.

IN THE HOUSE OF ANOTHER.

By Beatrice Maritz. The Century Company, New York.

Stories of lost identity following shock never seem to pall on the public. This one is a little more complicated than the average, and will doubtless interest many readers. It begins with a young woman, a luxuriously appointed room which she did not recognize. She got out of bed and looked at herself in the mirror. This beautiful face was not hers. Was she crazy? Or had her soul and that of the woman in the other car exchanged souls? And the next morning when she went down to breakfast, a handsome man, whose manner was polite and yet very puzzling, was at the table. She gathered that this was her husband. But, she told herself, she had never married anyone.

Thus begins this love and mystery story set in one of the largest cities of the West. The heroine starts out to trail herself, to discover who she is, to find out about this puzzling, appealing man who is her "husband." She enters a jungle of conflicting circumstances, and how she works out her fate makes the story.

THE REMONDS.

By A. E. W. Mason. George H. Doran Company, New York.

Harry Luttrell, faced with the necessity of a momentous decision, listened to the summons to a harder, more vital manhood, and went out to Egypt on the trail of his destiny. Martin Hillyard, playwright and son of fortune, received the summons in more tangible form, a telegram forwarded to him in the wilds of Africa, mysterious, yet compelling. The quick journey down to Alexandria, the voyage to England, the sudden plunge into adventure whirled him into a service of which he had never dreamed, yet for which he was singularly suited—the secret service. Spain is the principal scene of his activities, the Spanish coast, little tumbledown towns, the quays. Adventures crowd upon him and through the web of intrigue and danger he moves with calm assurance and the debonair nonchalance of the man who is master of himself and the situation. Linking the two men in a curious, intangible way is the beautiful figure of Stella Croyle.

This is a first and foremost an adventure story, quick moving and satisfying power. It is also a love story. This is Mr. Mason's first novel in more than six years but the public has hardly forgotten the novels of his life before the war, "Running Water," "The Four Feathers," "The Broken Road," "The Witness for the Defense."

BOOK OF GALSWORTHY PLAYS

PLAYS. By John Galsworthy. Fourth Series. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

The first in this series of Galsworthy's plays, "A Bit of Love," is more than a bit marvellous. When this author, usually as wise as he is brilliant, lets himself go on sex questions he becomes a weariness to the flesh.

Michael, STRAWAY, a young clergyman, who is considered by the dramatist as a deeply religious person, marries a woman to whom he is attracted neither by wit, beauty nor wisdom, but whose "sex charms," as the polite phrase runs, "Naturally, his wife, being what she is, soon ceases change and leaves her husband for a former sweetheart whom, of course, she has never ceased to love." However, she begs her husband not to divorce her, as it would unfavorably affect the professional interests of her family.

The parson, being a real Christian, accedes to her modest request. This is well for the man who marries such a type ought to bear in mind when she proves that "it will after kind." But he ought also to take his needed medicine without making very faces. But Galsworthy's hero goes about "looking out and upward almost as if he were being crucified," evidently lamenting his enforced celibacy as wholeheartedly if not as wisely as Joseph's devoted daughter bewailed her virginity. Seeing him thus submissive and also sorrowful, Galsworthy's parishioners proved to be more than a bit silly. Every possible angle was taken to get proper spirit. The scenes behind the scenes drama and intrigues are distinctly and peritantly audible. The most noteworthy detail is "The Remonds," term signifies the end of the class. The events chronicled in
